

DEMOCRATS SWEEP U. S. A.

Sigler Takes Bad Beating

Detroit, Nov. 3 (AP)—Gov. Kim Sigler today conceded defeat by his Democratic opponent, G. Mennen Williams.

Sigler's entire state ticket appeared in danger of going under with him.

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey and United States Senator Homer Ferguson, both Republicans, were struggling to keep ahead of a tide of Democratic votes.

Sigler was 100,000 votes behind Williams, his former liquor commissioner, when he gave up. There were only about 1,000 precincts to hear from.

Williams issued his own victory statement in mid morning although Sigler had not at that time conceded defeat.

"It is with a full heart and deep sense of humility that I thank the people of Michigan for the confidence they have expressed in the program of the Democratic party and in me," Williams said.

"I shall be happy to have this opportunity of further service to the people of Michigan, and I shall exert myself to the utmost to promote the welfare of all the people of this great state."

Populous Kent (Grand Rapids) county, home of former Republican boss Frank D. Mc Kay whom Sigler prosecuted on a conspiracy charge, put in the first heavy slug against the governor.

It plopped to Williams by 5,000 votes in incomplete returns, giving the young Grosse Pointe a margin he clung to despite a mounting G.O.P. vote outstate.

Sigler edge outstate was meeting the Williams tide in Detroit, the silver-haired governor was sound asleep in Alger's Grosse Pointe home, only a few blocks from where Williams was gathered with close friends to get the returns.

Sigler went to bed shortly after 10 p. m. last night and arose refreshed at 4:30 a. m. today, presenting a calm appearance to those who greeted him.

The governor said with a smile a defeat would be "the best thing that ever happened to me—then I could take a long vacation and go back to the practice of law and make some money."

Black Offered Post On Williams Staff

Attorney General Plans To Stay In Lansing

Port Huron, Mich., Nov. 3 (AP)—Attorney General Eugene F. Black, who turned against Gov. Sigler, said today the Democrats had asked him to stay on in Lansing.

Assuming the election of G. Mennen Williams as Democratic governor, Black said he had accepted Williams' offer to assist the new administration and to continue his investigation of alleged sales tax frauds and reported irregularities in Republican fund raising methods.

"This means," Black said, "that the Republicans who thought to get me out of their hair will find I'll still be around to stir things up after my term expires Dec. 31."

Pay Raise May End Lansing Bus Strike; Fares Will Go Up

Lansing, Nov. 3 (AP)—Approval of a new bus franchise by voters here today prompted officials of the Inter-City Coach Line Company to offer striking employees "an immediate and substantial wage increase" as soon as they return to work.

James A. Gibb, company president, said his first concern was to get the buses rolling again. AFL bus drivers and mechanics have been on strike here since Oct. 24. Gibb did not reveal terms of the wage offer.

The new franchise jumps the present fare from five cents with a penny extra for a transfer to two tokens for 15 cents and a free transfer. A 10-cent fare will prevail for those who do not purchase tokens.

FALL HALTS COOKING

Owosso, (AP)—The two-story fall of a 16-year-old laborer, Clifford Coon, interrupted the cooking of a Nick Aleck, 53, here Tuesday. A wheelbarrow sailed through a skylight and fragments of it struck Aleck while he stood at his stove. Coon, working on an adjoining building, received minor injuries. Aleck had to be taken to the hospital with a head injury.

G.O.P. Gives Up Control Of Congress

By the Associated Press

Washington, Nov. 3 (AP)—Democrats grabbed control of Congress today. The majority in the House approached a landslide.

The voters—in a startling upset—unseated 50 or more GOP House members, and gave the Democrats a majority in the Senate, as seemingly they decided to revamp the legislative body that President Truman called "do-nothing," history's second worst—even "idiot."

If the breath-taking trends continue, the new Congress probably will look something like this:

—House—
Democrats—242 seats.
Republicans—192 seats.
American Labor—1 seat.
(The GOP controls the 80th Congress House 243 to 185—with two American Labor members and five vacancies.)

—Senate—
Democrats—54 seats.
Republicans—42 seats.
(The GOP now controls the Senate 51 to 45).

By the Associated Press

Washington, Nov. 3 (AP)—Democrats clinched control of Congress today.

After breaking a 48 to 48 tie in the Senate, the Democrats grabbed a majority of the House seats—218—on returns from Tuesday's elections.

Indications were they would have a comfortable working majority in the House when all the votes are counted.

Including holdovers and members elected yesterday, the Democrats counted 49 Senate seats and were leading in five other states. An actual Senate majority is 49.

Thus the people—in a startling upset—decided to dump the legislative body President Truman dubbed history's second worst—even "idiot."

Late returns told of mounting Republican defeats in both Senate and House battles. If the trends continue, here's about how the new Congress will look:

—Senate—
Democrats—54 seats.
Republicans—42 seats.
(The GOP now controls the Senate 51 to 45).

—House—
Democrats—229 seats.
Republicans—205 seats.
American Labor Party—1.
(The GOP controls the 80th Congress House 243 to 185—with two American Labor members and five vacancies.)

Brother Shot Dead For Love Of wife

Homicide Story Changed At Temperance, Mich.

Temperance, Mich., Nov. 3 (AP)—State Police Detective Bion Hoeg said today 27-year-old Donald Moore had admitted shooting his brother, Dale, Donald said he was in love with his brother's wife, Hoeg reported.

Donald was given a lie detector test in Lansing yesterday after he told police that 24-year-old Dale was accidentally struck by a shotgun charge fired at a prowler.

Police said Donald would be taken to Ypsilanti State Hospital for a mental examination, probably today.

Also held for questioning was Dale's wife, Dorothy, pretty 23-year-old mother of two children.

Hoeg said Donald changed his story during the lie test, and later repeated it before Prosecutor Foster D. Luse and Deputy Harris Lapp.

Dale died Monday in his small rural home near here. His brother, a Toledo auto worker, told police he was visiting there to help build an addition on the house.

Mrs. Moore and her children were in the house when the shooting occurred, Hoeg said.

Donald's original story was that he fired across a darkened room at a window where he thought he saw a prowler and Dale happened to be in the path of the charge, Hoeg said.

Police reported that Donald was a former mental patient in Ft. Custer hospital in Battle Creek.

Judge Won't Cancel Sentence Of Ailing Floyd Fitzsimmons

Jackson, Mich., Nov. 3 (AP)—Circuit Judge John Simpson today refused to set aside the sentence he imposed on ailing boxing promoter Floyd Fitzsimmons in 1945.

The Battle Creek sportsman has conducted a spirited legal fight of three to four years on a bribery conviction.

Fitzsimmons' attorneys, in presenting a motion to vacate sentence today, claimed that two physicians had examined their client and stated that imprisonment would endanger his life.

Judge Simpson ruled that he had no authority to change the sentence. That was up to the governor or the parole board, he said.

Earlier this year, the United States supreme court refused to review Fitzsimmons' case. His original conviction came on a charge that he attempted to bribe legislators in connection with horse-racing laws.

Governor Sigler prosecuted the case.

Schools To Retain Slice Of Sales Tax

Diversion Proposal No. 2 Has Favorable Verdict

By EDWARD PRIZER

Detroit, Nov. 3 (AP)—The sales tax diversion amendment rolled up an overwhelmingly favorable majority today.

Virtual defeat of proposal No. 2, as indicated by incomplete returns, assured local governments and school districts a continuing share of the sales tax dollar.

The proposal was an attempt to remove from the constitution the diversion amendment, adopted by voters in 1946.

Another issue aimed at adding to school funds was also moving toward passage, but more slowly. This was Proposal No. 5, a plan to soften the 15-mill tax limitation, which had a moderate though indecisive lead.

Here is how the five remaining ballot proposals stacked up in incomplete tabulations:

No. 1—To provide for the replacement of a governor-elect, in the event of his death, by top state officials in order of importance. Strong lead in favor of passage.

Nos. 3 and 4—To allow the legislature to set the salaries of legislators and state officers. Comfortably on the way toward passage.

No. 6—To adopt the Callahan Act, which provides for the registration and control of foreign agencies in Michigan. Fair but definitely inconclusive majority for passage.

Separate proposal—to call a convention to revise the state constitution. Apparently defeated.

NO TRACE OF HUNTER

Newberry (AP)—The greatest manhunt in Upper Peninsula history is nearing its end with still no trace uncovered of F. Hale Currier, Capac, Mich., hunter who disappeared Oct. 17. In the last big search, 80 officers, woodsmen and Capac citizens scoured the area, aided by hunting dogs.

Housing Problem Still Unsolved

Residents Of Delta Vote For Fast Time

Year-round Daylight Savings Approved

The proposal to continue eastern standard time on a year-round basis in Delta county was carried by a substantial majority in Tuesday's election.

Delta county voters cast 6,421 ballots in favor of year-round daylight saving time as compared to 5,685 for merely a summer-time schedule. The margin was 736 votes.

The city of Gladstone, where the move for placing the issue to a county-wide test originated, voted to maintain the status quo, 1072 to 1062.

The full-year fast time proposal picked up a majority of 226 votes in the city of Escanaba.

Biggest surprise came, however, when the rural precincts, traditionally opposed to daylight saving time, added another 500 votes to the winning proposal. Masonville, the Garden peninsula, and Bark River township voted overwhelmingly for it. The rural precincts voted 2277 to 1777 for year round fast time.

Democrats Pick Up Strength In Lansing

Majority Of GOP Solons Trimmed Sharply

By JAMES A. A. CROWE

Detroit, Nov. 3 (AP)—As election returns piled up today, Democrats were making deep inroads into the formerly topheavy Republican majority in the state legislature.

Feature of the swing was Wayne county where the first district (Detroit) sent 21 Democrats to the House of Representatives to replace 21 Republicans.

Wayne districts other than in Detroit, and Muskegon, Delta and Genesee counties were sending Democrats to the legislature to unseat Republicans.

But the surge did not appear to be endangering the Republican majorities in both Houses.

Twenty-three Republican senators and representatives had been sent back to Lansing over opposition in outstate districts. They join 33 Republican legislators who were unopposed for reelection to bolster G. O. P. expectations to control the legislature.

The outgoing House of Representatives was dominated by 95 Republicans against five Democrats. The Senate was weighted 28 to four on the Republican side.

The 21 Detroit Democrats, strongly pro-labor, include these former representatives: Ed Carey, CIO United Auto Workers International representative; Tracy M. Doll, past president of the Wayne County CIO Council; and Jack Fuller, financial secretary of a UAW local. John Ptaszkiewicz of Hamtramck and Patrick J. Doyle of Dearborn, both Democrats, were re-elected to their House seats.

In Delta county Democrat Einar E. Erlandson of Escanaba unseated incumbent Roy A. Jensen, Republican.

Election Results Cause Sharp Slump For Stock Market

New York, Nov. 3 (AP)—The stock market greeted the Democratic victory today with one of the sharpest declines in several years.

Losses of fractions to more than 5 points were scored by key issues.

A rally developed soon after the initial burst of selling wore off but it was not decisive.

Heavy trading took place before noon, then activity tended to dry up later.

Many pivotal issues opened more than one hour after the start of trading on the exchange. Big blocks of such shares as U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Chrysler, General Motors and Standard Oil (NJ) were marked down sharply.

The delay in opening so many issues was almost without precedent in stock exchange operations. Selling orders were so heavy that it took time for the specialists in the stock concerned to match them with buying orders.

Big Housing Project At Dearborn, Mich. Rejected At Polls

Dearborn, Mich., Nov. 3 (AP)—The proposed John Hancock housing development, center of a bitter community dispute, lost out today at the polls.

Voters expressed themselves 15,948 to 10,562 against allowing the insurance company to build the project on property offered for sale by the Ford Foundation.

Republicans Lose In Delta County

Delta county voters piled up sweeping majorities for all Democratic candidates for national, state and county offices in yesterday's general election, complete but unofficial returns revealed this morning.

The scope of the Democratic victory in the county is indicated by the range of Democratic pluralities from 257 votes, the margin by which Mrs. Violet Patterson defeated Congressman Charles Potter, Cheboygan Republican, to 2981 votes which Prosecutor Clyde McGonagle, Gladstone Democrat, defeated his Republican opponent, Alger Strom. President Truman defeated Governor Dewey, 6931 to 5334, in Delta county.

The landslide returned to office every Democratic incumbent in the county offices and swept out of office the Republican legislators from Delta county. Roy Jensen, of Escanaba, who was decisively defeated by Einar Erlandson, Democratic labor candidate, 6848 to 4995.

Governor Sigler, Republican, likewise took a severe beating at the Delta county polls yesterday, losing to G. Mennen Williams, the Democratic nominee, by 7393 to 4969.

The election boards in the county kept doggedly at their vote counting chore until almost daylight, the final returns being reported shortly before seven o'clock this morning.

The county vote was extremely heavy, perhaps the largest ever cast in Delta county, belying the comparatively mild campaign conducted by both of the major parties in this county.

Two Congressmen Trailing In Wayne

Potter and Bennet Have Comfortable Margins

By F. GLENN ENGLE

Detroit, Nov. 3 (AP)—At least two Michigan Republican congressmen appeared headed toward defeat today while twelve other Republicans and three Democrats held their ground.

Although returns were far from complete in Wayne county, only a political miracle would save Reps. Howard A. Coffin and Harold F. Youngblood their House seats in view of the Democratic landslide in the Detroit area.

If other incumbents and one Republican newcomer survive, as expected, Michigan would send 12 Republicans and five Democrats to the 81st Congress.

11th District—Charles E. Potter, legless war veteran from Cheboygan, was returned for his second term in Congress, beating out Violet L. Patterson by 15,000.

In the Upper Peninsula's 12th district incumbent Rep. John B. Bennett of Ontonagon led Democrat Gene A. Saari of Houghton. But returns still were lacking from reportedly Democratic iron mining regions.

County, State And Nation On Truman Train

Dewey Concedes Election As States Desert His Party Standard

New York, Nov. 3 (AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey today conceded the presidential election to President Truman.

The Republican presidential nominee's press secretary, James Hagerly, announced at 11:15 a. m. (EST) that Dewey had sent a telegram to Mr. Truman conceding the election.

The text of the telegram:

"My heartiest congratulations to you on your election and every good wish for a successful administration, and I urge all Americans to unite behind you in support of every effort to keep our nation strong and free and establish peace in the world."

The last Republican hope that Dewey might nose out Truman in the electoral vote, even though he was trailing well behind in popular balloting, apparently faded when late California returns put Truman in front in that state.

At the time Dewey conceded, Truman was leading in or had won the following states:

Arizona, Arkansas, California, Colorado, Florida, Georgia, Idaho, Illinois, Iowa, Kentucky, Massachusetts, Minnesota, Missouri, Montana, Nevada, New Mexico, North Carolina, Ohio, Oklahoma, Rhode Island, Tennessee, Texas, Utah, Virginia, Washington, West Virginia, Wisconsin, Wyoming.

Vacation In Florida

Dewey was leading in these: Connecticut, Delaware, Indiana, Kansas, Maine, Maryland, Michigan, Nebraska, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, North Dakota, Oregon, Pennsylvania, South Dakota, Vermont.

Gets Working Majority

While these may not be the final figures, it is clear that Mr. Truman will have a working majority of his own party in Congress. To this majority he can submit the legislative program over which he and the GOP-run 80th Congress quarreled—quarrels so much that Mr. Truman called Congress "idiot" and the "second worst" in history.

This program includes power to put on price controls, housing legislation, and the so-called "Civil Rights" measures which led many Southern Democrats to break with Mr. Truman.

For Mr. Truman, the win was a tremendous personal achievement.

With a fighting campaign, the man from Missouri roused his party from despondency and led it to a victory which almost all its leaders except the President himself had written off months ago as an impossibility.

For Dewey and the "team" around him, it was the bitter end of a 10 year dream. The New York governor has been aiming at and working for the presidency that long.

He broke precedent when he captured the Republican nomination this year after a losing race against Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1944. He can hold no hope that his party will entrust its banner to him again.

Chances Expected

In Wall Street, which had anticipated a Republican victory, the initial reaction to the election's outcome was a break in prices of many stocks. Utility stock prices especially fell.

Presumably, the selling was dictated chiefly by uncertainty over what new laws affecting business may be enacted by the new Democratic administration.

For the rest of the world, the outcome meant double assurance that there would be no shift in American foreign policy. The present policy has been called bipartisan.

Secretary Of State Marshall To Relire

Cabinet Leader Plans To Go Back To Farm

Paris, Nov. 3 (AP)—Secretary of State George C. Marshall will resign next Jan. 20 regardless of the outcome of the presidential election, an informed source in the American United Nations delegation said today.

The source said there had been many recent reports that Marshall might resign.

Marshall, the source said, plans to retire to his farm.

Man Sustains Back Injury In Accident Early This Morning

Gust Klein, jr., 36, of Perkins sustained a broken back and an injured shoulder in an automobile accident early this morning. He was taken to St. Francis hospital at 6:45 o'clock. Details of the accident were not available this morning.

Klein was employed by the Wisconsin Michigan Power and Light company.

YOUTHS LOOT SCHOOL

Bay City (AP)—Juvenile authorities are holding eight teen age youths on charges of looting Central high school several times during the past year. Police said the youths obtained a master key to the building and stole chemicals, athletic equipment and regular school supplies.

THIRTY POLIO CASES

Marquette (AP)—Another polio patient, a 15-year-old Menominee county boy, has been admitted to St. Luke's hospital here. He is the 30th known polio case in the Upper Peninsula. The state last week sent a group of nurses into the area to aid in treating the victims.

The new commander is Leroy N. Floriano, a World War II hero whose father was killed in World War I, first fatality from Hermansville.

Schoolcraft Stays In Republican Fold

Manistique—Schoolcraft county remained in the Republican column, with voters returning all incumbent Republican county officials to office on the basis of unofficial returns from yesterday's election. County candidates were unopposed but the vote was Republican for national and state offices as well.

The unofficial returns from 12 of Schoolcraft county's 13 precincts are as follows:

Dewey 1708, Truman 1659, Sigler 1652, Williams 1441, Keyes 1761, Connolly 1330, Alger 1330, Fox 1276, White 1272, Roth 1335, Brake 1745, Kozaren 1284, Aton 1738, Price 1391, Ferguson 1883, Hook 1272, Potter 1913, Patterson 1202.

There was only one contest at the county level, for probate judge. Ralph Merwin, incumbent, received 1733 votes to Thomas Kennedy's 1420 with one precinct (Thompson) unreported. Re-elected to office were Rep. David F. Morrison of the Schoolcraft-Alger district; Prosecutor William J. Sheahan; Sheriff Howard A. Hewitt; Clerk and Register of Deeds G. Leslie Bouschor; Treasurer Laura A. Williams. All are Republicans.

Mackerel's Family Life Is Traced

London, (SS).—Mackerel have long kept their home life a deep secret, but finally an English scientist has found out about it. He is Dr. G. A. Steven, of the Plymouth Laboratories of the Marine Biological Association.

These fish, that figure so importantly in England's bill of fare leave their inshore haunts in early spring and go out into deep water, at least a hundred miles west of the nearest land. There they deposit their eggs at a depth of some 600 feet.

After spawning, the fish return shorewards and disperse all along the coastline, where they remain until late autumn. Then they disappear from the surface, and concentrate in widely separated spots on the sea floor. In early spring they come to the surface again, and prepare to repeat the cycle.

REP. POTTER VICTOR AGAIN

Defeats Mrs. Patterson
By 2 To 1 Vote

Incomplete returns indicated that Rep. Charles E. Potter of Cheboygan, Republican incumbent, had won a two to one victory over his Democratic opponent, Mrs. Violet Patterson of Perkins, in Tuesday's congressional election in the Eleventh Michigan district.

Partial county returns follow:
County Potter Patterson
Delta 29-29 5885 6142
Menominee 30-31 5101 4031
Alger 2-15 107 112

Other Lower Michigan counties reported scanty returns, but indications were that Rep. Potter was maintaining a two to one lead.

City Community Chest Drive Gets Underway

The work of six competent organizations engaged in community betterment will be financed by the Delta County Community Chest, it was announced this morning by Sam Ham, Escanaba director of the campaign, who announced the start of the drive to raise $18,000.

Those organizations are the Boy and Girl Scouts, Campfire Girls, Salvation Army, Cod Liver Oil Fund and Michigan Children's Aid.

Juel Lee is chairman of the county drive, for which the slogan is "Everybody Benefits—Everybody Gives."

Prosperity Caused Boom in Babies

Washington — Demobilization and the prosperity which followed it are responsible for the record-breaking birth rate last year, P. K. Whelpton of the Scripps Foundation for Research in Population has explained in a report of the U. S. National Office of Vital Statistics.

The baby boom produced approximately 3,900,000 births in 1947, Mr. Whelpton estimates. Of these, 1,435,000 were first births to native white women. These figures do not mean that more women are entering motherhood, he says. About two-thirds of the mothers had at least one child already.

Obituary

MRS. ALBERT COX

Funeral services for Mrs. Albert Cox were held today at 2 p. m., from Anderson Funeral home with Rev. James G. Ward, rector of St. Stephen's Episcopal church officiating.

During the services C. Arthur Anderson sang two request numbers, "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere" and "Someday We'll Understand." Mrs. Charles Bisdie accompanied him.

Members of the Ladies Auxiliary of the B of RT, Mesdames Joseph Beltzer, Nellie Valind, P. T. Joseph McDonough, William Hermes, Anna Malloy and Charles Wood Jr., served as honorary escorts. Active pallbearers were Herbert Hanson, William Winkler, Richard Stratton, Andrew Magnuson, Arthur Sundstrom, and Harry Gustafson. Burial was made in the family lot in Lakeview cemetery.

Among out-of-town persons attending the funeral were Mrs. Albert Sterling of Jackson, Mrs. Herman Freytag of St. Helena, Ore., Mrs. William Cox of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Clendenning of Salem, Wis., Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Magnuson of Engsign, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Sundstrom, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Sundstrom and John Stratton of Stonington, Mr. and Mrs. George Moersch of Detroit and Mrs. Nellie Walker of Chicago. Many friends from neighboring communities also attended.

Doves are not as peaceful as they are supposed to be. They quarrel among themselves though generally not among other birds and creatures ready. Nor does it indicate a trend toward larger families, he adds. The rates for seventh and subsequent births in 1947 were lower than those for any previous year.

Mr. Whelpton used the birth statistics for upstate New York in his calculations. The national figures for last year will not be tabulated until next winter or spring.

Dedicated To Youth

THE COMMUNITY CHEST solicitation started in Delta county this morning and will continue for two weeks or until the goal of $18,000 is reached. The objective is not an extravagant one and with enthusiastic effort on the part of solicitors and the cooperation that is deserved on the part of the general public, the campaign should go over the top by the middle of November.

Six organizations will be financed by the Community Chest. They are the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Campfire Girls, Salvation Army, Cod Liver Oil Fund and Michigan Children's Aid. Note that the emphasis in this drive is upon youth betterment.

In previous campaigns we have heard it said by those who are seeking an excuse for dodging a contribution to the Community Chest that such programs as the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts and Campfire Girls should be financed by the parents of the boys and girls who are members of these organizations. Undoubtedly that viewpoint will be heard again in this campaign. This contention, of course, is near-sighted and narrow-minded. These parents should contribute, by all means, but the financing problem should not be theirs alone. Everybody benefits by the fruits of better citizenship harvested in the program of the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts and Campfire Girls.

Membership in these youth organizations is not and should not be predicated upon the social or economic status of the youngsters of their families. In truth, the more youths from lower income families that can be encouraged to join the Scout movement the better it will be.

Fortunately, the vast majority of the people of Delta county understand this situation and are anxious to do their part to keep these youth programs vigorously active.

Defeat Dooms Chiang

THE CRUSHING DEFEAT of Chinese Nationalist armies in Manchuria will inevitably mean the ouster of Chiang Kai-shek as ruler of China, a move that would meet with considerable favor from the American economic and military advisers in China.

It has long been recognized that the greatest obstacle to a much needed reorganization of Chinese government has been Chiang. He is regarded as a most incompetent military commander and his regime in China has been characterized by inefficiency and corruption.

The United States has poured no less than three billion dollars into China in the last three years for military and economic aid. The money has been dissipated unwisely, much of it used for bribery to keep Chiang in power.

The destruction of the Nationalist army in Manchuria is a case in point. Several hundred thousand of the best Chinese troops and enormous quantities of American supplies were lost in that debacle. The Nationalist position in Manchuria has long been recognized as dangerous and American advisers pleaded with Chiang to withdraw the troops to a more formidable defensive line. Chiang not only refused to do so but continued to send more soldiers into the Manchurian trap. Now the situation is so grave that it is uncertain that the Nationalists can prevent a sweeping drive by the Communists southward into China.

Gold In Montana

IF THE UNEXPECTED in natural events or human behavior is a prime ingredient of news, then a story out of Helena, Mont., a few days ago certainly deserved a bigger play than most newspapers gave it.

To get right down to cases, they hit pay dirt again in Last Chance Gulch, which yielded up some $16,000,000 worth of gold in the middle of the last century. The gulch, to be sure, is now Helena's main street. And the "prospectors" were workmen digging a hole for a new elevator shaft under the Placer Hotel. Nevertheless, they did hit pay dirt.

Somebody must have shouted "Gold!", or excited words to that effect. But the excitement didn't generate any such fever as once made Montana a perilous frontier place.

The hotel management did call in some mining experts. They estimated that the strike was worth about $1.75 a cubic yard, which would be rich enough to work. But the management told the workmen to go ahead and pour in the concrete. One of the officials explained the decision with these heretical words: "We don't have time to mess with gold."

Such a statement, uttered in the Montana of frontier days, would have branded the speaker as crazy. Today it probably reflects a soundness of judgment. For gold is no longer a symbol of the ultimate in earthly desire. It is just another one of those things that modern man can take or let alone.

We don't think that this is a sign that human cupidity has vanished during the last century or that American enterprise has lost its zing. It is simply that the management of the Placer Hotel has adapted itself to a world in which a lot of old values have new price tags.

Those hotel men in Helena live in a country whose government has most of the world's gold. This gold was dug out of the earth, just as the gold would have been dug out of the hotel men's elevator shaft if they had said the word. The United States government bought all its gold with dollars. But having bought it, what did it do with it? It put it right back in the ground.

The government didn't buy things with the gold, or sell it to its citizens. It posted a guard over the buried treasure and called it a gold reserve. That is a fund which assures holders of United States government notes that the notes can be redeemed in gold. Of course, if they really tried to exchange them for gold they might run into trouble. But as long as the holders know the gold is there, nobody tries.

So perhaps the Placer Hotel people were not so foolish to pour concrete on their new gold strike. The metal just stays in the ground, where it would have wound up anyway. Above it a new elevator will soon be running. And at present hotel rates, the management will gross considerably more than $1.75 a cubic yard for the guests that ride in it.

High Fire Hazard

A BAN on all hunting in Northern Wisconsin has been proclaimed by the Wisconsin conservation department as a result of the explosive forest fire situation there. At last-report 51 fires were reported to be burning over a wide area.

While the situation in Northern Michigan is not quite as critical, the U. S. Forest Service and the Michigan Department of Conservation agree that soaking rains are needed.

In the meantime, hunters and woodsmen are again reminded that they must use extreme caution while traveling through the forest areas. Motorists driving through wooded lands often cause fires by flipping lighted cigarettes from automobiles. This thoughtless act under present conditions could easily cause the destruction of many thousands of acres of valuable timber and game cover.

This has been an unusual fall. Continued warm weather, the absence of snow and extremely light rainfall have combined to make the forest fire hazard the highest it has been at this season in many years. Two more weeks of these conditions would probably force a postponement of the deer hunting season in Northern Michigan.

"LIVES ARE AT STAKE"

(Detroit News)

Michigan law, effective since July 1 this year, provides a penalty of $100 fine or 90 days in jail, or both, for any farmer who sells raw milk to any store or other place off the farm.

This means for the people of Michigan, and tourists here, less undulant fever, less tuberculosis, less of the many other diseases often carried in unpasteurized milk. Last year there were more than 30 cases of undulant fever in Detroit alone, and a great percentage of tuberculosis doubtless has its origin in raw milk.

The undulant fever record in Detroit will probably be reduced close to zero for the year ending July 1, 1949, for this city has banned the distribution of unpasteurized milk since 1915. But outside Detroit, our people on vacation too often have used raw milk, "fresh from the cow," purchased either from a wayside farm or country store.

Since 1915, Michigan law has protected pigs, chickens, goats and calves against unpasteurized milk returned from cheese factories and creameries for animal feeding purposes. But it took 32 years for the Legislature to give the people of the state the same immunity against raw milk sold by the farmer.

There is a loophole, however, in Act No. 291, Public Acts of 1947, which now bans for the entire state the retail sale of unpasteurized milk.

If the qualified electors of an incorporated city, village or township vote by referendum (which can be demanded by petition by 10 per cent of the voters) to take this area out of application of the act, the people may still buy raw milk—and take the consequences!

Will it take another 32 years for the Legislature to plug this loophole and stop entirely one of the principal sources of numerous deadly diseases?

Take My Word For It

Frank Colby

READERS' CORNER

A few weeks ago I discussed the French word vasistas, "a peephole door." The word, I explained, is a corruption of the German phrase "Was ist das?" meaning "What is it?" I also stated: An architect friend tells me that the only English name he knows of is "peephole door."

Readers have written to me in large numbers. They are split into two camps. The first insists that peephole doors are properly called wickets, and cite Merriam Webster's: "Wicket, a small gate or door, especially one forming part of, or placed near, a large gate or door."

The second is equally insistent that a peephole door is a Judas, also citing Webster's: "Judas, a peephole; as in a door, or wall."

So this modest department of your favorite newspaper is richer by two words than it was before. And if you have such a gadget set into a door of your house, you may refer to it as a peephole door, a wicket, a Judas, or a vasistas (English pronunciation: VASS-iss-tass).

Kline Gives Farm Bureau New Look

BY PETER EDSON

Washington, (NEA)—There is a decided new look about Washington headquarters of American Farm Bureau Federation, probably the most powerful of the farm pressure groups in the capital. The man responsible is Allan B. Kline, an Iowa corn-hog man who this year succeeded big Ed O'Neal, the Alabama cotton planter who was AFBF president and chief Washington lobbyist from 1931 through 1947.

O'Neal's drawing, easy-going ways have been banished. A new staff of younger, bristling middle-westerners has been moved in under Roger Fleming. The offices themselves have been moved from a crowded suite in a down-town building to half a floor in the Standard Oil building at the foot of Capitol Hill. There are thick carpets on the floor, pastel tinted walls, modern desks. The Farm Bureau is now definitely big business.

AFBF was founded in 1920. It grew up with the county agent movement. When Ed O'Neal took over its presidency it had less than 300,000 members and it was broke. Today it has over 1,300,000 members and over $1,000,000 in the bank.

A NAME TO BE HEARD

The name of new President Allan B. Kline is apt to be heard a good bit more around Washington in the shaping of future farm policies. He is 53, of medium height but stocky, with big hands and a weather-beaten face. He has a degree from Iowa State College. He has been to Europe four times in the last four years to study European food problems. His 540-acre farm produces $40,000 worth of hogs and hybrid corn, has a swimming pool and tennis court.

He can talk farm economics like a college professor and by the hour. He does it without reference to notes or manuscript, citing statistics all the while. Which may account in part for the fact that he is also a member of the Chicago Federal Reserve Bank board. His specialty is monetary policy.

In talking about today's prices, Kline distinguishes between farm prices and food prices. He says most people believe that food grows in grocery stores. They forget that in the grocery store price are also transportation, processing, handling and storage costs—all of which are piled on top of the farm price.

Farm prices, Kline points out, are flexible. They go up and down on the market. But other elements in food prices are what he calls "sticky." They go up, then stick there. Labor and freight costs, for instance. Until the sticky costs of machinery and land and fertilizer and other things that the farmer buys come down, Kline says there is little chance that farm prices can come down much further. If, in spite of this, the government should embark on a low-price food program, Kline believes it will have to resort to a subsidy program. The British have done that. They pay the farmer $1 a dozen for eggs which are sold to consumers at 75 cents. The government pays the difference. Kline says he'd hate to see the U. S. adopt that system. The present system isn't free enterprise, he admits, but it's a lot closer to it than the subsidy system.

FARMER IS MAIN INTEREST

Kline's chief interest—the American Farm Bureau Federation's chief interest—is in what he calls the "commercial" farmer. Of America's 6,000,000 farm families, only half are commercial farmers. They produce more than they consume, to sell. They're in business. That takes capital—more in most cases than it takes to run a grocery store.

The other half of America's farm families merely live in the country. The U. S. could produce a lot more food if these subsistence farmers could be put on a commercial basis, says Kline. He believes the U. S. could consume all that these farmers might produce.

Kline denies the frequently-made charge that the farm organizations are to blame for the delay in lowering farm support prices until 1950. Farm Bureau had a big fight over that at its annual meeting last December. One group wanted to keep support prices up to 90 per cent of parity indefinitely. Kline led the fight for a cut to 60-90 per cent of parity. He won.

Right up to the end of Congress last June, all the farm organizations held together on the 60-90 formula. Delaying that action until 1950 was something that the politicians thought up. He won't say who was responsible, but implicates both parties. As for rectifying that mistake in the next Congress, he sees no chance.

Q. Why do we say "curry favor"? When I curvy anything, it's a horse.—J. B.

A. It's a horse when you curvy favor, too, for the expression originally was "curry favel." Favel, now obsolete, meant "a pale-yellow horse." Favel also meant "duplicitous; cunning fraud." Hence, to curvy favor was to seek favor by flattery or pretended friendship. Favel, pronounced FAY-vil, somehow changed itself to favor.

Washington: For shame, Colby! Instead of bowing to usage as the authority for pronouncements, why don't you launch a reform to pronounce words as they are spelled?—B. S.

A. Sorry, B. S., it can't be done. Try it on bough, cough, hicough, hough, rough, dough, through, bomb, comb, tomb, one, bone, done, gone, colonel, phthisis, swyn (yes, there is such a word in English).

Houston: How's this for loony logic? A news item: "Mrs. L— said Monday she was resigned to a life-saving operation on her baby girl born with a rare ailment, but with misgivings."—J. S.

A. Ah, magnificent!

Are you guilty of using "ain't" or "aren't"? Mr. Colby discusses these common errors in his leaflet, C-20. For a copy, send 5c in coin and a stamped-self-addressed envelope to him, care of Escanaba Daily Press, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

It Won't Be Long Now

Good Evening

By Clint Dunathan

HOW FAST—Can a zooming hawk outdistance the flashing hummingbird? Can a horse in full gallop overtake the antelope? Frankly, what is the fastest moving thing alive?

Dunathan

It is none other than that two-legged creature with the over-size brain called man. For recent jet-fighter flight at a record 670-98 miles an hour, topped by a reported 1,000 mile-per-hour achievement of a rocket-propelled ship, has pushed inventive man far ahead as the "world's fastest thing."

Take him away from his mechanical aids, however, and man takes the dust of many land creatures. In short spurts man has attained a running speed of 22 miles an hour, and in the water he can do about four miles an hour at best. That puts him in the octopus class.

IN THE AIR—Until men started fooling around with heavier-than-air craft the best they could do was to take an occasional balloon trip, wafting gently with the speed of the wind. The speed of the wind, incidentally, was not much greater, even in a gale, than the flight speed of many birds in a dead calm.

The National Geographic Society reports that man once believed the deer bottly could travel 800 miles an hour. Scientific experiment showed, however, that the bottly rate probably was closer to 25 miles an hour. At 64 miles, it was found, the insect would become invisible, and at greater speeds, it would virtually "burn up."

Within his metal contraptions, man can attain speeds of 1,000 m. p. h. and still live. How fast he will be able to go in the future will depend only upon his own inventiveness. The time may come when air speeds of several thousand miles an hour will be commonplace.

THE FRIGATE BIRD—The nearest competitor to flying man may be the frigate bird, reportedly checked by ship's chronometers at 261 miles per hour. The well named swift, it is claimed, has been clocked above 200 miles an hour, and the peregrine falcon, divebomber fashion, may swoop to its prey at 200 miles per hour.

We have always had a distinct respect for the exploding speed of the ruffed grouse, but somewhere we read that its flight seldom exceeds 20 miles an hour, less than the speed of the quail and many other game birds. Someone is always destroying beliefs that were the basis for all-bis. No longer can the grouse hunter claim that he missed a shot because "that partridge was flying so fast I could hardly see it."

INSECTS SLOWER—Compared with such bird champions as the swift and frigate bird the insect speedsters must take a back air lane. The fastest is believed to be the dragonfly, timed at nearly 60 miles an hour. One observer recorded a group, traveling with a tail wind, at more than 70 m. p. h.

The fastest insect we know is the hornet. When we were a boy we once poked a stick into a hornet's nest. The hornets traveled about 60 miles an hour to catch

INTO THE PAST

Ten Years Ago

Escanaba—Albert Moreau, veteran Chicago and Northwestern switchman, last night pulled off his heavy gloves for the last time. He retires after 48 years of service.

Gladstone—John Feeney, former Gladstone high school football star, was a member of the Oshkosh Normal eleven which defeated LaCrosse 18 to 6 last Saturday.

It will be a bad day for the colleges and worse for the future of our democracy if college graduates turn the blunt edge of their disdain upon the kind of activity which led to the founding of our country and which has made it great.—Dr. Alan W. Brown, new president, Hobart College.

up with us. After they alighted on our back and began stinging we carried them along at a speed variously estimated between 200 and 300 miles an hour. That was the greatest speed ever attained by either a hornet or a boy, although the National Geographic Society has not officially recognized that record.

ON LAND—Take from man his mechanical wheels and his speed on land is little more than 22 miles an hour, as we mentioned earlier in this column. That is only for short spurts, too, and compares poorly with the speed of most other land animals his size.

The cheetah, or hunting leopard, is at the head of the list, making as much as 70 miles per hour. Even 80-mile records have been claimed for the beast when pursued by a car.

Near the cheetah class, but with greater endurance, are the pronghorn and Mongolian antelopes, registered by car speedometers at 60 miles an hour and more. The highest records on racing horse, hare, and greyhound, by contrast seem in slow motion with respective rates of 48, 45 and 40 miles an hour.

IN THE WATER—The fastest human swimmers can do about four miles an hour, which is about the same speed—if it can be called that—of the octopus. The sea leader is probably the swordfish, some of whose family members are believed to move through the water as fast as the cheetah on land. So fast is the swordfish that one, with torpedo-like effect, was reported to have cut through a ship's side of copper plate and 20 inches of wood.

THE SLOWEST—What is the "slowest thing"? The sloth and snail are words for it, but other creatures, including the burrowing earthworm, have been found to be slower.

The sloth can be excited to a speed of a mile an hour. A snail's pace actually has been scientifically measured. One particular study disclosed that certain types of snails travel 23 inches in hour.

New York (AP)—It is unlikely the next war—if there is one—will be fought as experts predict today.

For there is no trusty crystal ball to give an honest preview of just how nations will beat each others brains apart a generation hence. Wars have as many surprises as women or the weather.

Top-ranking veterans of one war are often the poorest guessers on how the following war will be waged. They tend to overrate one new weapon too much. Or they rely too heavily on methods that won them victories in the past.

It isn't only the French army—as the old quip goes—that prepares in peace to fight the last war over again. All armies have a tendency to.

The other day I picked up for five cents at a second-hand book stall a battered copy of the "Riddle of the Rhine," by Major Victor Lefebvre. He was a British chemical warfare specialist in the first world war.

Predictions Out Of Date

His book was published in 1923. It illustrates why seasoned military leaders should be chary of putting into print any predictions about the future of their own profession.

The book contained part of an article by Maj. Gen. Amos Alford Fries, then chief of the U. S. Chemical Warfare Service, pointing out that poison gas caused 75,000 of the 275,000 American first World War casualties. Gen. Fries prophesied flatly:

"No other invention since that of gunpowder has made so profound a change in warfare as gas is making, or will make, in the future."

But did it? Gas didn't play as profound a role in the second World War as Garand rifles, powdered eggs or the Red Cross doughnut girls.

The same book quotes an even more interesting statement by General Debeney, director of the French College of Warfare. This distinguished Gallie warrior had a theory that attacking aircraft could be brought down better by poison gas missiles than by conventional anti-aircraft shells.

Said he:

"It would be much more effective to create, for example, a sphere of poisoned air, a mile round the airplane, instead of trying to hit the machine directly with bits of the shell."

I wonder how General Debeney would feel if he re-read that today? He apparently didn't foresee bombers with enclosed cockpits.

The high commanders of all allied armies after 1918 appear to have predicted future battles too much in terms of static trench warfare.

Enemy Unknown Factor

A young upstart French captain, Charles De Gaulle, found promotion slow after 1928, when he dared prophesy the doom of France unless it built longer-range and more mobile tanks. Billy Mitchell met an even rougher fate in the American Army for championing airpower too robustly.

But Germany proved that De Gaulle and Mitchell were right. She almost won the second World War because of her early lead in tank and plane strength.

We can have peace with honor if we will work as hard and efficiently to achieve it as we worked to wage two successful world wars.—Gov. Earl Warren of California.

Pre-Pearl Harbor Tale Has Moral

Washington.—The hitherto untold story of a famous pre-Pearl Harbor, Washington dinner party given by Donald M. Nelson is revealed in full detail with the publication of Bruce Catton's new book, "The War Lords of Washington." The story will probably go down in capital history as one of the most painfully embarrassing feasts of Belshazzar ever held in this town of great social crises.

If the story now seems old and out of date, it isn't at all. It has a kicker and a moral for the new war lords of Washington in 1948, who may be facing other Pearl Harbors.

Bruce Catton will be remembered as a former NEA Service editorial writer and columnist. He resigned from active newspaper work to enter government service, ending the war as director of information for the War Production Board. He is now on the staff of Secretary of Commerce Charles Sawyer. His book is an inside story of big business versus the people in World War II.

BIG FELLOWS GET TOGETHER

The Nelson party with which Catton opens his book was held in the North Lounge of Washington's Carlton Hotel, Dec. 4, 1941. There were 24 guests. They were the top men in the defense effort—leaders in government and dollar-a-year men from private industry.

Purpose of the party was to get them all together around a table, prime and feed them well and then in the contented hour that followed, show that New Dealers and Big Businessmen were brothers under the skin, able to make the defense effort click after a couple of fumbling starts.

Nelson began the talking with what Catton describes as something of a Rotarian speech. Good fellowship was going to cure all misunderstandings. There was no reason why they couldn't all work together. They had to work together.

Nelson then introduced Wallace. The vice president, who was also Nelson's boss as head of SPAB—Supply, Priorities and Allocations Board. Wallace rose and stood in awkward, smiling ill-ease, his long and heavy forelock dangling over his brow. He didn't belong in the room with this bunch, and he showed it. He was reminded of a story. It drew a round of polite laughter. Wallace sat down.

Then Bill Knudsen, the production genius, said something about there being a big job to do here. In spite of everything, he thought it was being done pretty well. He likened the war then going on in Europe to a noisy gin party started by the neighbors in the next apartment.

Edward S. Stettinius (Junior) offered the tidings that he had just heard from Harry. He meant Harry Hopkins. Stettinius said that Harry was getting along fine in the hospital and would be back soon. The news was received with not too-enthusiastic applause.

KNOX SAID NAVY WAS ON JOB

Next Nelson called upon Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox. After voicing the usual after-dinner pleasantries, Knox said that since he could speak freely to this assemblage, he wanted to warn that war was very close. It could begin at any moment. But whatever happened, Knox wanted them all to know that the Navy was ready. Every ship was at its post, every man at his station.

Then came the event that was to spoil—or to make—the party. There was another misfit present. He was a former newspaperman, Robert W. Horton, then director of information for the Wallace-Nelson-Knudsen SPAB-OPM operations. After Knox spoke, Horton passed a note to Nelson. It read, "How about calling on me?" So Nelson called on Horton.

Horton had been very much interested in the secretary of the Navy's remarks, he said. But the other afternoon while going to the Navy, he had been fairly trampled on by officers rushing out with their golf bags over their shoulders. It seemed to Horton that the Navy was quitting rather early if there was a crisis near.

Nelson apparently recounted later that at this juncture Knox had leaned over and whispered, "Who is that — — — — —?"

But Horton was going right on talking. He had been down the Chesapeake Bay recently, cruising in a patrol boat. And he had sailed right into Norfolk Navy Yard and gone all around the "illustrious," shot-up British aircraft carrier which was supposed to be getting secret repairs. Horton said that later he had landed at the yard and walked all over the place without ever being challenged.

"Mr. Secretary," Horton concluded, "I don't think the Navy is ready." Less than four days later came Pearl Harbor.

RUSSIA AND THE VETO

(Memorandum Herald-Ledger)

Russia has used its veto power for the 28th time (the U. S. has never cast a veto) in the United Nations security council to block United Nations action to lift the Russian blockade of Berlin, which now makes it necessary for the United States, Britain and France to fly in the food and fuel needs of millions of Berliners in their occupation zones of the German capital. Russia vetoed a proposal to lift the blockade as prelude to a conference between Russia, the U. S., Britain and France on German problems. Earlier Russia proposed exactly such a procedure as she rejected in the blockade case to solve the problem of atomic energy control. She proposed then that the U. S. destroy its stock of atomic bombs before the U. N. talked SISTERS MEET AGAIN—Their first visit together in 47 years is being enjoyed in Escanaba by two sisters, Mrs. Stella Walker (left) of Los Angeles, and Mrs. Julia Williams (right) of 414 South Sixth street. They are daughters of the late Mr. and Mrs. Dolph Hudson, and they last saw each other in 1901 when the family lived at Ford River. Mrs. Walker, Mrs. Williams and her daughter, Mrs. Tom Goedert of Escanaba, have recently returned from Wisconsin where they visited other relatives.

Meet In Iron Mountain November 10 To Speed Up Peninsula Air Mail

Escanaba will be represented by at least 12 city and Chamber of Commerce officials at a meeting to be held in Iron Mountain Nov. 10 for the purpose of expediting procurement of air mail service in the Upper Peninsula.

Those planning to attend are Denis McGinn, president of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce; George Lindenthal, chairman of the Chamber's aviation committee and committee members Walter Arntzen, John Fawcett and F. W. Schmitt; City manager A. V. Aronson and councilmen Nevin Reynolds, Sam Wickman and Thomas Quinn, and Chamber members Fred Sensiba, Gust Asp and J. R. Fitzharris.

All U. P. communities interested in air mail service are coordinating efforts in behalf of early air mail service. Escanaba, Marquette, Houghton and Ironwood, in all probability, will be represented at the session.

The move was taken after Wisconsin Central Airline's President Francis M. Higgins advised that start of U. P. service by his airline was indefinite. Wisconsin Central has been granted the air mail franchise for several U. P. communities, including those mentioned above.

Also invited to the Iron Mountain session will be a representative of the Civil Aeronautics Board which franchises all scheduled airlines and representatives of the state department of aeronautics and of Nationwide Airlines, which for more than a year has been providing air passenger service between Detroit, Lansing and U. P. points.

Nationwide has applied for an air mail franchise. It is anticipated the group in session in Iron Mountain will endorse Nationwide's application and urge early action by the CAB toward supplying air mail service by Nationwide.

EHS Students Cast 352 Truman Votes And 209 for Dewey

Escanaba senior high school students cast 352 votes for Harry S. Truman and 209 votes for Thomas E. Dewey in a straw election held at the school Monday and Tuesday. Democratic candidates received a plurality of votes.

The election was conducted on the same basis as the Nov. 2 election and students of the government classes in the school were in charge.

Originally voting was scheduled to be completed Monday, but all students were not able to vote that day and the booths, normally used for elections, were opened again Tuesday. Miss Nina Ley, instructor in journalism and government, was in charge.

Students cast 339 ballots for Frank Hook, senatorial candidate, and 233 for Homer Ferguson. Charles Potter received 234 votes and Violet Patterson 339 votes.

G. Mennen Williams, Democratic candidate for governor, polled 358 votes in the school against 228 for Gov. Kim Sigler. In the lieutenant governor race John W. Connolly took 370 votes to 209 for Eugene Keyes.

William Ellsworth polled 247 votes; Roy Jensen, 227 votes, and Einar Erlandsen, 343 votes. In secretary of state voting, Alger polled 219 votes and Fox 354. Roth received 376 votes in the contest for attorney general, and Stuart White, 196, John Kozaren polled 354 votes and D. Hale Brake 210 in the race for state treasurer. Murl Aten received 206 votes for the office of auditor general and Margaret Price 360 votes.

In county races McGonagle polled 261 votes in the prosecutor's contest and Strom 209. Incumbent sheriff William Miron took 391 student votes, compared with 187 for Harold Finman.

Students cast 229 votes for St. Martin, Republican candidate for county clerk and register of deeds, and Theodore Ohlen 346 votes. Robert Fryal received 385 votes and Charles Magnuson 187 in the county treasurer contest.

Kevill Murphy took the largest number of votes in voting for coroners, receiving a total of 381 school votes. Dr. Otto Hult received 350 votes and Arthur Anderson 212.

Students voted to retain Eastern Standard Time in summer only, 297 to 288. The referendum to revise the constitution was approved by 423, with 155 casting ballots against the revision.

Voting on amendments was as follows:

No. 1	420 yes	123 no
No. 2	184 yes	371 no
No. 3	385 yes	155 no
No. 4	388 yes	174 no
No. 5	386 yes	164 no
No. 6	430 yes	112 no

William Miller, incumbent candidate for election as probate judge on the non-partisan ticket, polled 591 votes in the straw election. Torval Strom received 17 votes, Robert LeMire 7 and Denis McGinn 14 votes for circuit court commissioner.

Upper Michigan high schools forwarded election results in presidential, gubernatorial and congressional races to Marquette where votes were pooled to determine the voting preference of U. P. youth.

Escanaba high school will have 9 electoral votes, on the basis of one for each 100 students in grades nine through twelve in Upper Michigan. Social science classes of NMCE, Marquette, are in charge.

Serving on the EHS election boards, with Don Aronson as chairman, were Bonita Cool, Nancy Flink, Joanne DeLaire, Joan Hedsten, Alicemae Davidson, Charlotte Gustafson, Rosemary Lequia, Alice Linden, Jeanne Belanger, Kemp Sabourin, Matt Smith, Wayne Peterson, Robert Beauchamp, Russell Bolm and Ed Millette.

TAX DIVERSION LAW IS UPHELD

County Votes Heavy 'No' On Repeal

Returns from 21 of Delta county's 29 precincts revealed this morning that the county voters left no doubt of their approval of the controversial sales tax diversion amendment. County voters walloped a proposal to repeal the amendment by a margin of 5546 negative votes to only 1700 affirmative votes. The schools and the City of Escanaba, as well as the township units of government, vigorously supported the tax diversion principle and carried on a successful campaign for its retention.

The county's attitude on other amendment proposals, however, was not so decisive and the final outcome in the county on some of the proposals probably will depend upon the returns from the missing precincts.

Amendment No. 5, on which the schools advocated an affirmative vote, apparently did not do so well. With six precincts unreported, Amendment 5, which proposed modification of the 15 mill amendment, was being defeated in the county, 3770 to 3125.

Amendment No. 1, proposing a change in the order of succession to the office of governor, was ahead, 3044 to 2588, as was Proposal No. 6, which was a referendum on the Callahan foreign agent registration law. Proposal six was leading in the county, 3102 to 2089.

All other proposals on the amendment ballot, as well as the special referendum on revision of the constitution, were met with apparent disfavor by a majority of the Delta county voters.

Amendment No. 3, proposing a change in compensation of state officers, was lagging, 2731 to 3978. A companion proposal, Amendment 4, suggesting a change in compensation of state legislators likewise was trailing, 2552 to 2925.

The constitutional revision proposal was snowed under, 2453 to 3604.

The missing precincts included all of the Gladstone precincts.

SCHOOL FOREST IS ESTABLISHED

Hermansville Launches Tree Project

Hermansville, Mich.—Equipped with axes and shovels, thirty-four boys enrolled in grades 3-12, accompanied by Messrs. Wells, Bond, Floriano, and Kleimola of the faculty, made the initial trip to the Hermansville high school forest, located five miles north of the village, on the Vega Road. Mr. Gamache, bus driver, drove the group to the forest.

The boys and faculty members cleared a considerable amount of brush and dead wood. Many huge boulders were rolled into position for a fireplace.

Exploratory trips were taken throughout the day for the purpose of becoming familiar with the lines setting off the eighty-acre tract which lies on both sides of the road.

A healthy growth of birch, beech, maple and cedar were found on the forest site.

Reuben Marcoe, local school board member, is credited with making arrangements with the Bonifas Lumber Company for the acquisition of the school forest site.

The forest site will serve the Hermansville school as a center for the promotion of conservation study.

'Reefer' Habit Hops Up In United States

Mouthwash Reduces Decay in Teeth

Philadelphia, (SS)—A mouthwash has been devised by a dentist here that has reduced dental decay on an average of 75 per cent in a group of his patients.

Formula for this caries-preventive is: 40 grams of sodium alkyl aryl sulfonate, a synthetic detergent; 80 grams of carbamide urea; one-eighth of an ounce of flavoring; and one grain of color to one gallon of pure water.

Dr. David J. Goodfriend, in a report to the Journal of the American Dental Association today, states that the mouthwash cleans the teeth and penetrates between them where food particles may be lodged, prevents the formation of decay-producing acid in carbohydrate food particles and neutralizes acids that may be formed.

For the home care of the mouth and teeth he recommends that a mouthful of the mouthwash be swished around and between the teeth for one minute after eating and after toothbrushing.

Washington (NEA)—The holding of Actor Robert Mitchum in Hollywood on a marijuana drug charge brings to light an indication that "reefer smoking" is increasing rapidly in the U. S.

Latest figures from the U. S. Treasury Dept. show that the amount of marijuana confiscated by Federal agents jumped 64 per cent last year over the previous year, from 23,588 ounces to 39,394 ounces. The number of peddlers of the drug arrested by Treasury men also increased from 892 to 987. And that doesn't include thousands of arrests by local and state narcotics men.

Mexico is one of the big sources. The illegal traffic is straining the resources of the U. S. to stop it.

Well-organized gangs and bold lone-wolf operators are bringing most of it in. One of the biggest recent cases involved an American mining engineer, Victor C. Sanders. He was caught peddling "reefers" in Los Angeles. Later a huge supply which belonged to him was found hidden in a chicken coop in Compton, Cal. Three big trunks held 210 carefully sealed cans, each containing four ounces of the drug. He said he bought the stuff from a man named "Joe" in Juarez, Mexico. Sanders is in prison.

A large part of the supply is grown right in the U. S. in back yards, on empty lots. It is easy to raise. And it is a very simple process to dry the leaves and roll them into cigarettes.

The plant looks like an ordinary garden weed, grows one to three feet high and has a seven-bladed, jagged-edged leaf. Small buds or pods on the plant contain the highest concentration of the drug. It is of the hemp family, scientifically labeled "cannabis sativa."

Those engaged in its illicit traffic call the drug "Mary Warner," "Mary," "reefers," "nuggles," "hay" or "stuff."

Continued use doesn't create helpless addiction, like opium. Addicts need psychological help rather than medicine.

Most reefer smokers are found among musicians and other artists. The drug has its greatest appeal to persons of unstable personality.

It gives the user a false sense of well-being and makes him acutely sensitive to different sounds and pitches. The U. S. Public Health Service has proved by tests that it does not improve a musician's ability.

While under the influence of a reefer the smoker believes that there is nothing he isn't capable of doing or saying. In some instances it makes the user run amok.

Generally, it renders a person incapable of intelligent action, as does alcohol. It wears off in from two to four hours leaving a slight hangover and feeling of depression.

Mild use doesn't appear to affect physical health but in India and Egypt where there is widespread use of stronger doses it makes users feeble-minded or insane.

It is believed a traveler brought seeds for the plant to Mexico and it came up from there about 23 years ago. Traffic reached its peak in 1937, when a Federal law was passed, banning its sale, use or possession. All 48 states have laws against it. The Federal penalty for a marijuana violation is not more than a $2000 fine, five years in jail or both.

NEW PRODUCTS FROM SILICONE

Scientists Are Optimistic About Chemical

New York.—Oils, greases, resins, rubber and other products of the relatively recently developed silicones, a new chemical family, are sure to be followed by many new products, the American Society of Mechanical Engineers was told here by K. W. Given of the chemical department of General Electric, Pittsfield, Mass. Some of these new products will be available soon.

Because of the ability of the silicones to withstand extremes of heat and cold, to resist moisture and to remain unaffected by most other chemicals, some of their uses will be revolutionary, he said. Glass cloth soaked in silicone resin produces an electrical insulation which will withstand great heat, and silicone varnishes, enamels and paints product finishes that resist acids, alkalis, fresh or salt water, oils and weather. A water-repelling silicone film will have many uses.

Silicones are made from organic compounds plus silicon, one of the earth's most plentiful elements. About 76 per cent of the earth's crust is composed of silicon and oxygen, the components of sand. Studies of silicon chemistry have extended over several decades, but the development of the silicones and their applications was hastened by the wartime need of the armed services for a material resistant to heat, cold and chemical action.

In the manufacturing process, silicon is ground and mixed with

Education Week To Be Observed

Munising—In observance of American Education Week, November 7-13, each school in Munising Township will hold one evening session during the week.

On Tuesday evening, November 9, from 7:00-9:00, the regular afternoon session of high school classes will be held. On Wednesday evening, November 10, from 7:00 to 8:00, all elementary schools will be in session. The regular afternoon programs of classes from Kindergarten to sixth grades will be held. An evening session is held to make it easy for parents to visit school, meet the teachers, and see the children in regular class work. Last year several hundred parents took advantage of the evening session as an opportunity to visit schools. This is not the only time that visitors are welcome. Parents can come at any time during the day if they find it more convenient. Visitors may feel free to enter and leave classes at will without any formality. Ushers will provide programs for high school visitors and assist them in locating classes.

The other observance of American Education Week will be held in the schools, and an endeavor will be made to do something appropriate to the topic for the day. General Theme: Strengthening The Foundations of Freedom.

Sunday, November 7—Learning to Live Together

Monday, November 8—Improving the Educational Program
Tuesday, November 9—Securing Qualified Teachers
Wednesday, November 10—Providing Adequate Finance
Thursday, November 11—Safeguarding Our America
Friday, November 12—Promoting Health and Safety
Saturday, November 13—Developing Worthy Family Life

Moose Lodge Will Initiate Class

MIXING ALKY WITH GAS

South Bend, Ind. (AP)—Alcohol and gasoline can be mixed. At least for high-speed airplanes. A fuel system designed by Bendix Aviation Corp. and widely used on fast military planes uses a mixture of alcohol, water and gasoline for increased power in take-offs or for bursts of speed in maneuvers or combat.

Metered quantities of alcohol and water are sprayed into the cylinders with the regular gasoline mixture. The alcohol prevents freezing at high altitudes. Engineers say the power of engines can thus be increased momentarily by as much as 30 per cent.

The absence of cobalt in the soil of pastures can be fatal to sheep.

ASTHMA

Don't let coughing, wheezing, recurring attacks of Bronchial Asthma ruin sleep and energy without trying MENDACO, which works thru the blood to reach bronchial tubes and lungs. Usually helps nature quickly remove thick, sticky mucus. Thus alleviates coughing and aids freer breathing and better sleep. Get MENDACO from druggist. Satisfaction or money back guaranteed.

Beware Coughs From Common Colds That HANG ON

Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ-laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. Tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough or you are to have your money back. CREOMULSION for Coughs, Chest Colds, Bronchitis

BUSILY ENGAGED in packing towels for teen-agers in displaced persons camps in Europe are Mrs. O. B. Mason, of the First Presbyterian church, Mrs. W. J. Anthony, First Methodist church, Mrs. E. P. Spawyer, St. Stephen's Episcopal church and Mrs. Gustav Lund of Bethany Lutheran church. The "Pack-a-Towel" project is being sponsored by the Council on Church Women in connection with its meeting on World Community Day, November 5.

Social - Club

W. S. C. S. Meeting
The W. S. C. S. of the First Methodist church will hold a regular meeting Thursday afternoon in the church parlors with Mrs. Carl Sawyer, Mrs. Ray Hawbaker and Mrs. Bruce Packard, members of the hostess committee.

Rummage Sale Saturday
A rummage sale, sponsored by the W. S. C. S. of the First Methodist church, will be held in the basement of the church, Sixth street and Second avenue south, Saturday beginning at 9 a. m. Articles for the sale may be taken to the church Thursday or Friday afternoon.

Augur-DeWar
Louise Anne Auger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Auger of Schaffer became the bride of Ross Gordon DeWar, of Ford River Road, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dalip Rehnquist at a ceremony performed by Rev. Fr. Arnold Thompson at St. Patrick's church Saturday, October 30, at 9 o'clock.

Baby mums decorated the altars for the service. "Ave Maria" was sung at the offertory and the bridal procession and recessional were played by Mrs. William Ramspeck.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white satin with a fitted bodice, leg o' mutton sleeves and a court train. A rhinestone tiara held her full length veil in place. She carried a white satin prayer book, and a bouquet of white button mums and roses, centered with an orchid.

Phyllis Rademacher, cousin of the bridegroom, the maid of honor, wore yellow net over satin. Jean Farrell, bridesmaid, and the junior bridesmaids, Darlene and Emilia Rehnquist, wore light blue taffeta, with matching Juliet caps and mitts and they carried yellow chrysanthemums. Lucienne Mack of Chicago, the flower girl, wore a floor length frock of blue satin with a wreath of baby mums in her hair and she carried a miniature bouquet of baby mums. Joseph Rademacher was best man and Pat Auger ushered. Alfred Miron of Gladstone carried the rings on a white satin pillow.

Mrs. Auger wore a blue jersey with matching accessories for her daughter's wedding and Mrs. Rehnquist wore navy blue with a pink and white corsage.

Breakfast and Reception
A wedding breakfast for 60 guests and a reception at the home of the bridegroom's parents followed the ceremony. Pink and white streamers and bouquets of flowers were combined in the decorations.

After a honeymoon in Canada the couple will live in Escanaba. For traveling the bride wore a tan tailored suit with brown accessories. Both young people are Escanaba high school graduates. Mr. DeWar is employed at the Dalip Rehnquist Electrical Appliance store.

Guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Ben Mack and family, Al Blazek and Pat Auger of Chicago.

Sloppy Grooming
Blow to Poise
BY ALICIA HART

There are two tell-tale ways by which a girl's sloppy grooming habits advertise themselves. One obviously, is by the way she looks. The other is by the way she acts—a sort of attitude of apology—when she lacks a feeling of physical freshness.

Perhaps more important than looking scrubbed and wearing immaculate clothes—as important as these are to a girl's appearance—is the big boost to her morale which a consciousness of good grooming gives.

A young girl has difficulty enough mastering poise as she grows up. She only makes her lot harder when she allows sloppy grooming habits to lower her good opinion of herself. Few things help to strengthen self-respect as much as a knowledge that every routine of good grooming has been chalked off before you start off for the day.

Try adding to the basic routines of good grooming the little touches that make you feel more beautiful. A dash of cologne, a sprinkling of luxurious bath powder, or an exquisite handkerchief put into a pocket—are not the frivolous accessories that they might seem. Any of these things are worth the price they cost if they help to strengthen a girl's good opinion of herself.

Who's Who In Girl Scouts

Editor's Note: "Who's Who", a daily feature during the observance of national Girl Scout Week introduces to you the leading figures in the organization's activities in Delta county.

In Rapid River MRS. LAURANCE HAYES is the leader of an intermediate Girl Scout troop, with a registration of 10 girls. MRS. AGNES LIND also is the leader of an intermediate troop with a membership of 10 girls. MRS. JOSEPH CASIMIR is the leader of a Brownie troop in Rapid River, having 10 girls participating. Mrs. Casimir is also treasurer of the Girl Scout council in that community. MRS. MURRAY COLE is president of the Rapid River council, having succeeded MRS. KENNETH C. SCOTT.

MRS. JOHN T. LOEFFLER, who lives at 1100 7th Ave. S., Escanaba, is assistant leader of Brownie troop 11, the Elves. Mrs. Loeffler has been a troop leader since Feb. 1947, when she organized the troop of which she is now assistant leader.

MRS. ROBERT A. MCCORMICK 1124 8th Ave. S., Escanaba, is the leader of Brownie troop 11 and has been active in Girl Scout work since June, 1947. Mrs. McCormick, previous to this, had worked with the Cub Scouts for two years.

MRS. SCOTT EAGLESON, a comparative newcomer to Escanaba, who formerly lived in Chillicothe, Ohio, is now living at 227 Ogden Ave. She is leader of an intermediate Girl Scout troop that meets at the Recreation center. Before her marriage, Mrs. Eagleson taught school for seven years. She also is chairman of the Girl Scout day camp committee, and the success of the day camp held in Gladstone last summer is largely due to the work Mrs. Eagleson did in planning it.

MRS. BYRON BRAAMSE, 516 2nd Ave. S., is leader of Girl Scout troop No. 8. Mrs. Braamse organized the troop at the request of a group of girls in her neighborhood who wanted to become Girl Scouts and wanted her as leader. She has been leader of the troop for 3½ years. She is the mother of two sons and a daughter, the latter being one of the original members of her troop. Before coming to Escanaba Mrs. Braamse was a 4-H club leader. MARY ALICE RASCHKE, librari-

Most Housewives
Follow Routine

The average housewife spends a lot of unnecessary time and back-breaking effort doing her daily chores because she is still following the old-fashioned domestic routines established by "Grandma," says Dr. Elaine Knowles Weaver, housekeeping research authority of Ohio State University.

Dr. Weaver spends her time figuring out ways of cutting down on the time and effort involved in performing household tasks—working out short cuts and more efficient methods that, if adopted by the average housewife, could shorten her working hours and reduce her fatigue at the end of the day.

You Work On It

That, it would seem, is the kind of problem most housewives could figure out for themselves, if they put their minds to it.

In fact, Dr. Weaver says she knows of one housewife who cut two and a half hours off her working day by making her own time and motion study.

The only drawback is that along with inheriting Grandma's outmoded housekeeping methods, a good many housewives have also inherited Grandma's attitude of resignation to the job's endlessness.

Instead of trying to do their jobs as quickly and as efficiently as possible and then quitting, they get a sort of satisfaction over never "getting through."

Before they can be tempted to abandon Grandma's methods they'll have to abandon Grandma's philosophy.

an in the junior high school, who was herself a Girl Scout, will take over the leadership of this troop in January.

Social Situations

Situation: You join a group that is already settled down to conversation.

WRONG WAY: Come in with a flourish, a lot of chatter, and take over the spotlight.

RIGHT WAY: Come in quietly and join the group without disrupting what is already going on.

A delicious and quickly made casserole dish may be concocted from cooked rice, hamburger and canned tomatoes. Season with salt, freshly ground pepper, onion juice and a dash of Worcestershire sauce.

Serve creamed chipped beef, flavored with a little grated onion, over squares of freshly-baked, hot corn bread; garnish with chopped parsley or a spray of watercress.

Use up leftover pickle juice by pouring it over sliced cooked beets and allowing the beets to marinate in it. Serve the beets as a relish or on salad greens.

Mrs. Stack Smith Heads New Deanery Council Of Women

Mrs. Stack Smith was appointed president of the Delta-Schoolcraft Deanery Council of the Diocesan Council of Catholic Women at an organization meeting held last evening in William Bonifas auditorium with the Most Rev. Thomas L. Noa, D. D., Bishop of Marquette, Miss Mary Donohoe, field secretary of the national Council headquarters, Washington, D. C., and the Very Rev. Joseph J. Dunleavy, diocesan moderator of the Council.

Rev. A. C. Coignard, of Perkins, dean of the deanery presided, was attended by over 600 women, representing Catholic women's organizations from every parish in the two counties.

Associate officers appointed by Bishop Noa are Miss Lillian Grenier, secretary; Mrs. Willard Bedard of Gladstone, treasurer; and chairmen of standing committees: Mrs. Earl Rost of Garden, Mrs. Neurohr of Perkins, Mrs. William Barker of Manistique and Mrs. Thibeault of Rapid River.

Meeting Program

The meeting program opened with a hymn by St. Joseph's glee club followed by a roll call of parishes conducted by Father Coignard. Bishop Noa outlined the principles of Catholic action and announced the appointment of officers, and Miss Donohoe explained the mechanism of the council organization. An interlude of beautifully presented music by St. Joseph's boys and girls' glee clubs, who were attired in their choir robes preceded a talk by the diocesan moderator.

Bishop Noa closed the meeting with brief talks and his blessing. Following the general meeting Miss Donohoe met with officers and chairmen to explain in detail the work of the Council. A similar organization meeting will be held tonight in Menominee.

Installation Of Chapter Officers Saturday Night

Open installation of newly elected and appointed officers of R. C. Hatheway Chapter No. 49, Order of the Eastern Star, will be held Saturday evening, November 6, at 8 o'clock in the Masonic Temple.

All Masons and Eastern Stars and their friends are invited to attend the ceremonies. Refreshments will be served during a social hour following the installation.

A practice meeting for the new officers will be held Friday evening, November 5.

Gideon Martins Celebrate Their 62nd Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Gideon Martin, residents of Escanaba for over a half century, are observing their sixty-second anniversary today.

Because of their advanced age no special celebration was planned outside of a family gathering at their home, 300 South Eighth street.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin were married in Canada. Their immediate family includes eight children, 17 grandchildren and 7 great grandchildren.

VFW Auxiliary Dinner Planned

The V. F. W. Auxiliary to Post 2998 will hold a membership dinner Wednesday evening, November 10, at 6:30 o'clock at the V. F. W. club rooms. Mrs. Joyce Johnson is chairman of the committee in charge. All members are urged to attend. Reservations may be made with Mrs. E. J. Kallio, Mrs. C. C. Newell or Mrs. John Blahnik.

Births

Mr. and Mrs. George Smokovich of 1814 West Washington street, Milwaukee, are the parents of a daughter born Nov. 2 in Milwaukee. The baby is the third child in the family and the first daughter. Mrs. Smokovich is the former Helen McDermott of this city.

Church Women Are Busy With Welfare Project

Protestant women in Escanaba are busy this week packing towel bundles for teen-agers in displaced persons camps in Europe. The activity is sponsored by the Council of Church Women in its "Pack-a-Towel" project for World Community Day, Nov. 5.

The project is national in origin under the direction of the United Council of Church Women. They give the following directions for packing the bundles:

1. Start with a pretty bath towel 22 inches wide. Fold in as many articles as you can from the list below: soap, wash cloths, tooth brush, hair pins, hankies, socks, stockings, soft-soled bedroom slippers, scarfs, purses, new material for dress, yarn (knitting kit), neckties, new or good-as-new garments.
 2. Include a friendly note with sender's name and address.
 3. Flap over towel bundle and secure with a dozen assorted safety pins.
 4. Pin firmly to it a piece of cloth with large crayon letters B (Boy) or G (Girl) and the size.
 5. Bring your bundle to the Central Methodist Church for the World Community Day meeting, Nov. 5 at 2:30.
- Any persons in the community who would like to send a towel bundle are urged to do so. Persons not affiliated with the Council may leave their bundles at the home of Mrs. James H. Bell, 208 South 4th St.

Consider Well Before Joining

By RUTH MILLETT
For women's clubs all over the country, fall is open season on prospective members. Since it is so much easier to stay out of an organization than to get out of one once you've become a member, here are a few questions a woman should ask herself before joining any club or organization:
Am I interested enough in the aims or purpose of the organization to become an enthusiastic working member instead of just another joiner?
Just what will I get out of the organization? Will it be instructive? Will it give me a chance to do something worthwhile in the community? Will it give me stimulating companionship? Will it offer relaxation? It ought to do at least one of these things.

Have I the Time
How much time will it take, and have I that much time to give to it?

Can I take on another activity without getting my life crowded and confused?
What will membership cost me—not just in dues, but in clothes, entertaining costs, pay for babysitters, transportation, etc.?

A woman can save herself a lot of wasted time and energy and perhaps even some hard feelings if she asks herself these questions before she joins an organization instead of waiting until afterward.
At the time, it may seem easier to say, "Yes, I'd like to join," than, "No I can't." But, "No, I can't," sometimes proves to be the easier answer in the long run.

Fold grated cheese or finely chopped parsley into a puffy omelet for a flavor change. Serve with crisp potato sticks (packaged) and a green salad. Add hot biscuits, homemade preserves and coffee for a delicious easily-prepared supper.

If your youngsters insist on studying at the dining room table, be sure a study lamp is moved to the table to protect young eyes.

Mikulich-Mika

Munising, Mich. — In a double ring ceremony performed Saturday morning, October 30, at 9 o'clock at a nuptial high mass in Sacred Heart church, Miss Mary Bernice Mikulich, daughter of Mrs. Frances Mikulich, 117 Cedar street, Munising, and the late Jacob Mikulich, became the bride of Francis B. Mika, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Mika, of Metamora, Ohio. The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Edward. Rev. Fr. McNaughton officiated at the ceremony.

The bridal party included Miss Frances Shega of Waukegan, Ill., who was maid of honor for her cousin, Miss Betty Mikulich, the bride's sister, who was bridesmaid, Charles Kozumplik of Wyandotte, the best man, and the bride's brother, Henry Mikulich of Houghton, groomsmen.

The bride wore an ivory satin gown with a peplum bodice marked by tiny buttons down the back and a marquisette yoke trimmed with seed pearls, long, pointed sleeves and a long train. Her veil of fingertip length was caught to a crown of seed pearls. She wore a double strand of pearls as her only jewelry and carried a white prayer book with white gardenias attached to the cover.

Miss Shega wore aqua moire taffeta and a matching net head-dress and carried a colonial bouquet of baby mums, white carnations and yellow roses, centered with gardenias. Miss Mikulich wore a coral marquisette gown with a matching headdress and she also carried a colonial bouquet.

Mrs. Mikulich selected an aqua street length dress with a corsage of white carnations for her daughter's wedding and Mrs. Mika wore forest green with a like corsage.

A wedding breakfast for 20 guests was served at the Sylvan Inn. Bronze, white and yellow mums decorated the table with a four tiered wedding cake topped by a tiny bridal couple, the centerpiece. A reception for 50 guests was held from 4 to 7 at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Alvina Koenig.

Home in Detroit

After a week's honeymoon in the Upper Peninsula, the couple will go to Detroit where they will live. For traveling the bride is wearing a forest green ensemble with black accessories.

The bride, a graduate of Mather high school and a former member of the Munising hospital staff, at the time of her marriage was employed at the Veterans General hospital in Dearborn. During World War II she served with the Army Nurse Corps in the states and the European Theatre of Operations. Mr. Mika, who was graduated from Metamora high school, spent four and one-half years with the U. S. Army in the states and E. T. O. He is employed by the Packard-Motor Car Co. in Detroit.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Bert Mika, Metamora, O., Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Shega, Traunik, Misses Frances, Josephine and Margaret Shega, Waukegan, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Johnson, Aura, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kozumplik, Wyandotte, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Mikulich and daughter, Phyllis, Manistique, and Henry Mikulich, Houghton.

Near East Circle

The Near East Circle of the First Methodist church will meet at the home of Mrs. Anton Holmes, 424 South 17th street, Thursday evening at 7:30. Mrs. Wallace Hibbard is assisting hostess.

Gallup Poll Tells How It Got Off The Beam On Prediction

New York, Nov. 3 (AP) — The Gallup poll, which predicted a safe margin for Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, early today gave two reasons why President Truman piled up such a big vote:
1. He "recaptured" many votes from Henry A. Wallace.
2. A lot of the "undecided" voters in the poll voted for Truman.
Dr. George Gallup's American Institute of Public Opinion predicted in its final announcement Monday that Dewey would get 49.5 per cent of the vote and Truman 44.5 per cent.

GAS SOAKS PAVEMENT
Romeo (AP) — Smoking was banned for a time in downtown Romeo after a tank truck loaded with gasoline jackknifed and spilled 3,000 gallons of fuel onto a main street. State police and firemen patrolled the district for hours pouring water on the pavement. The threat was finally ended when sand was strewn over the area.

County, State And U. S. Won By Democrats

partisan, but some edginess has been evidenced in Europe over the widely held pre-election expectation that a change in political administrations was coming.
In Washington, speculation already is running high that Mr. Truman now will make many shifts in his own administration.
This is based on the view that he's got little help in his campaign from many Democratic office-holders who had looked on it as a lost cause. Among the cabinet members, Mr. Truman's chief campaign help came from Secretary of Labor Maurice Tobin and Secretary of Agriculture Charles Brennen.

The dopesters figure these two will surely stay on, but are inclined to list many other high officials as "doubtful" of continuing as members of the administration family.

Gas Pains Curbed By New Chemical

Los Angeles.—One of the common distressing after-effects of operations, abdominal distention, or "gas pains," can be prevented or quickly relieved in many patients by a chemical called uracholine.

The good results with this medicine were reported by Dr. Clarence E. Stafford of the College of Medical Evangelists School of Medicine and Drs. Alexander Dederer and Arthur I. Kugel of this city at the meeting here of the American College of Surgeons.

About half of a group of 41 patients had good results from lozenges of the drug put under the tongue three times a day, and another third so treated had only slight or moderate discomfort from distention or cramping. Some of those who got no relief when the drug was given under the tongue were then given a small dose by injection into the skin. This brought relief within about five minutes.

About $400,000,000 worth of gold is produced each year.

Henry Ford Estate Worth 70 Millions For Tax Purposes

Detroit, (AP)—The estate of the late Henry Ford would have a total valuation of approximately $70,000,000 if figures used for tax payment purposes finally are approved.

This was indicated in an accounting prepared for probate court by Ford's widow, Clara J. Ford as executrix.

The accounting showed total assets as of July 1, this year of $31,451,009.36 exclusive of Henry Ford's stock holdings in the Ford Motor Co. Chief beneficiary under Ford's will was the Ford Foundation, to receive 286,099 class A (non-voting) stock of the Ford company. The other 95,321 class B (voting) stock shares held by Ford were left to his four grandchildren.

The accounting showed that $21,108,160.91 had been paid in federal estate taxes and $1,500,000 in state and other inheritance and estate taxes. Counsel for the estate said a figure of $100 a share on the stockholdings had been paid, but was yet to be approved in court.

In settling the estate of the late Edsel B. Ford, Ford's only son who died several years before his father, a figure of $90 a share finally was agreed upon.

Distribution of the stock will not be made until its taxable valuation has been fixed.

Mrs. Ford's accounting showed that since her husband died on April 7, 1947, until July 1, this year, she had turned over to the Ford Foundation $1,430,495 in dividends from the Ford Motor Co., and $476,605 to the individual beneficiaries—Henry Ford II, Benson Ford, William Ford and Josephine Ford.

Items of income from sources other than the Ford Motor Co., listed in the report ranged from such things as $20 from the sale of hay from one of the Ford farms to $963,680.94 from the administration of an estate Ford owned in Georgia.

At the time of Ford's death the value of his estate was estimated at as much as $500,000,000 various guesses being used as to the value of the 381,420 shares of Ford Motor Co. stock held in his name.

His will left only minor properties to his widow because, Ford

Discoverer Of DDT Wins Nobel Award

Stockholm, (AP)—The discoverer of DDT won the 1948 Nobel Prize for medicine Thursday night.

The Caroline Institute, the University of Medicine in Stockholm, chose Dr. Paul Mueller of Basel, Switzerland, as the winner of an award set aside for services to humanity. He will receive 150,772 crowns (about $44,000).

One of the members of the award panel described Dr. Mueller's discovery of the insecticide DDT as one of "inestimable value for the benefit of humanity," thus reflecting the principles in the will of the late Alfred Nobel, which provided for the Nobel Prizes.

homes Saturday afternoon. Lenas, Guindon returned to Chicago following the weekend with his father.

Tom Tounignant of Iron Mountain spent the weekend with his family.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Auger of Escanaba visited with their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Mrs. Walter Shermer, Sunday.

Millions of allied soldiers were helped in the last war by the insect-killing dichloro-diphenyl-trichloroethane, used to prevent the spread of insect-borne diseases.

Dr. Mueller, 48, made the discovery during a series of experiments in the Basel laboratories of the Geigy Drug industry.

Dr. Mueller had entered the Geigy firm at 23, as assistant manager in charge of work on synthetic tanning substances. He made a number of important discoveries in this field, and then turned to study of disinfectants.

Dr. Mueller and his staff discovered DDT in 1939. After extensive experimenting, the solution was put to use in Switzerland in 1939 to combat the Colorado potato beetle.

Later, when bands of refugees from the Nazis streamed across the border, DDT was used to "de-louse" them.

During the war, the substance showed extraordinary power to kill flies, fleas, mosquitoes, ticks and other bloodsuckers. It has been credited with checking wartime epidemics of typhus, malaria and similar diseases.

MRS. LAUGHTON IS REELECTED

Beats George Beaudoin In Menominee Co.

Menominee, Mich. — Katherine Stiles Laughton was reelected probate judge of Menominee county in Tuesday's election, winning over George Beaudoin of Stephenson by a 5138 to 3385 vote.

Sheriff Edward Reindl also was returned to office. He defeated Lloyd Christophersen, 5240 to 4164.

STILL A POLICEMAN

La Junta, Colo. (AP)—This highway patrolman was not above the call of duty even on his honeymoon trip. Officer David Hudson and his bride were driving out of town a half hour after the "I wills" when an approaching car swerved into a roadside ditch. Hudson stopped his car to lend a hand but found the other driver was not hurt. The honeymooners resumed their trip.

The Nobel Prizes in literature, chemistry and physics will be awarded Nov. 4 in Stockholm. The Nobel Peace prize winner will be selected by a committee appointed by the Norwegian parliament.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

"Husbands, Wives, and Marriage"

Maybe you read that survey published recently in a national magazine, entitled "Husbands, Wives, and Marriage."

It showed that among happily married couples, those who criticized themselves outnumbered those who criticized the other person. Among unhappily married couples, it was just the opposite—each one tended to criticize the other.

That's the way it is in our town, as I guess it is in yours. Criticism, whether it's of a wife's taste for hats, or a husband's taste for pipe tobacco and an evening glass of beer or ale, is a sure start towards unhappiness.

As for what made happy marriages, companionship within the home was listed most important of all. And from where I sit, a husband and wife who can spend an evening by the fire—with nothing more exciting than a mellow glass of beer, and a friendly conversation—are a truly well-matched couple!

SHIP IS SUNK DURING FOG

Boat Was Due At Port
Inland Tuesday

The ore carrier, "Croft," which was scheduled to arrive at Port Inland Tuesday, is out of commission and it is doubtful that it will carry cargo for some time to come.

The boat collided with another ore boat while approaching the Straits of Mackinac Saturday and was so badly damaged that it sank. There were no casualties however and maneuvering to shore was accomplished so that salvaging of the craft is assured.

What actually happened and the name of the other ship involved is not clear, as the news was picked up by ship radio at Port Inland. It is presumed that in the dense fog the boats were slightly off their course.

The "Croft," according to the report, managed to gain shore somewhere between Cheboygan and Mackinac City. It was loaded with coal and was on its way from Toledo to South Chicago. After unloading at Chicago it was to return to Port Inland.

Paul Schneider, of Manistique, was a member of the ship's crew.

RECENTLY WED—Miss Erna Price, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gottlieb Price of Engadine, and Francis McNeill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil McNeill of Greenville, were united in marriage in the Bethlehem Lutheran church in Engadine on October 23, the Rev. O. Neuman officiating. The young couple will make their home in Waukegan, Ill. (Bradley Photo)

Sunday Will Be All Saints Day At Zion Lutheran

The annual memorial service in honor of members who have died during the year will be held at Zion Lutheran Church on Sunday at 10:30 a. m. The service will be held in memory of the following deceased: C. M. Drevdahl, Stanley Shust, Mrs. Mary Anderson, August Carlson, Mrs. Ingrid Peterson, Mrs. Sigrid Enge, and Mrs. Hilda Carlson. The choir, under the direction of Miss June Christensen, will render appropriate music for the occasion.

All Saints Day will also be observed Sunday. On that day churches affiliated with the Augustana Lutheran Church will observe the centennial of the work of that Synod in this country. The first church of the body was established in Iowa in 1848. Rev. G. A. Herbert, the Pastor, will speak on the theme, "Faith and Failures of Our Fathers."

Pheasants Dyed
To Observe Range

Pullman, Wash.—If a pheasant with purple, green or blue feathers crosses your path, you may not be "seeing things." The bird will be real—and the rainbow feather-colors will be real, too.

Outdoor scientists sometimes dye birds' feathers with hues not found in nature as a means of quick identification at a distance. This enables them to keep track of their movements and learn the extent of their range.

Newest techniques and dyes useful in this particular branch of applied ornithology will be described in the forthcoming issue of the Journal of Wildlife Management by Dr. L. A. Wadkins of Washington State College. He has made use of 14 different dyes in a variety of solvents. Best results, on the whole, were obtained with 33 percent alcohol.

Halloween Party

The V. F. W. Auxiliary, to Post 4420, held a Halloween party at the V. F. W. club rooms on Saturday, October 30 at 2:30 for a large group of children. Games were played and prizes and favors were awarded. A grand march was held at 3:30 and prizes were given for the prettiest, funniest, and most natural costumes. A surprise gift was drawn by Mrs. Irene Hinkson. A delicious lunch was served later from a table decorated in the Halloween motif. The committee in charge was Mrs. Jeanette Dragos, chairman, Mrs. Betty Lundberg, and Mrs. Hilda Paquette.

For the past several years he has made extensive tours under the management of various Concert and Lecture Booking Bureaus including tours for the Bureau of Lectures of the Extension Division of the University of Kansas, Wisconsin and Minnesota.

During the past several summer seasons he has performed extensively at parks and fairs in the east.

His act combines genuine skill, physical coordination and comedy in such a manner as to make it one that is long remembered. Objects of all sorts literally "fly through the air with the greatest of ease," while others defy all laws of gravity when this juggler displays his skill. His faultless technique reflects the years of hard, constant, daily, painstaking practice to which he has subjected himself.

He is ably assisted by Mrs. DeMott who is a graduate of the Bloomsburg, Pa., State Teachers College, and who, prior to her marriage, was for ten years a teacher in the public schools of Pennsylvania.

JUGGLER WILL DISPLAY SKILLSecond Lyceum Number
At GHS Gym Thursday

George DeMott, juggler, will appear at the high school gymnasium Thursday afternoon at 2:45 o'clock as the second number of the current Lyceum series. Adults are invited to attend.

DeMott began practicing the art when he was eight years old and his professional career dates from 1925.

He has traveled as a performer, with some of the largest circuses in our country, including "The Hagenbeck and Wallace Circus," "The Cole Bros. Circus," "The Wallace Bros. Circus," and "Hunt's Circus."

For three seasons he was a featured entertainer with "The Mackey Players."

Sunshine Injects
Sugar in Apples

Ithaca, N. Y.—Apples have more sugar if they get more sunshine during the growing season. This was learned at Cornell's Agricultural Experiment Station in a long-time study aimed at correlating some of the factors like rainfall, amount of sunshine, and temperatures to the keeping quality of apples.

Another discovery was that the higher the temperatures during the last six weeks before harvest, the greater has been the amount of scald in storage. The scientists will test this information further during the 1948-49 storage season, based on predictions made the last six weeks before harvest.

Such knowledge, they say, will be of value to growers, who could move scald-susceptible varieties out of storage rapidly if considerable scald were expected.

NEW ORGAN IN LOCAL CHURCHAll Saints Purchases
Fine Instrument

A new organ has been purchased and installed in All Saints' Catholic church and was used for the first time at public services on Sunday.

Purchase of the instrument, a Consonata, manufactured by the Conn Instrument company, has been planned for some time, the Rev. Fr. Matt LaViolette stated.

It replaces a reed organ which has been in the church since its erection more than 25 years ago.

The new instrument has two manuals with swell pedal control for each manual and has been designed specifically for church work.

It has electric amplification which allows plenty of volume to reach to every part of the large church.

Gladstone Students
Favor Truman, 2-1;
Fast Time All Year

Students of the sixth through 12th grades in the Gladstone Public school system held their own election Monday and Tuesday morning at the high school and the results showed dominant Democratic leanings.

On the presidential ballot the vote was 205 for Harry S. Truman to 82 for Thomas E. Dewey with four votes cast for Henry Wallace, the Peace-Prosperity candidate and one for Edward Teichert, who headed the Socialist-Labor ticket.

G. Mennen Williams, Democratic gubernatorial candidate, polled 137 to Kim Sigler's 97 and Connolly 185 to Keyes 96. Frank Hook more than doubled Homer Ferguson's vote, 211 to 93 while Violet Patterson topped Charles Potter 182 to 105.

Students supported fast time the year around 201 to 102 for a combination fast and standard time.

On amendment 2 they voted No 220 to Yes 67 and on Amendment 5 they voted 234 yes to 56 no.

ST. JOSEPH'S TROJANS OF 1948—In their first season under their new coach, Tom St. Germain, all-around athlete of Northern Michigan College of Education of Marquette, the St. Joseph's Trojans showed considerable promise for the future by playing a steady brand of ball and displaying knowledge of fundamentals. Although their season record of three victories against five defeats did not put them in the upper bracket, they played fine ball in spots and had the satisfaction of bumping off two highly regarded opponents. High points of the season were a 19-13 victory over Gladstone after trailing, 13-0, at halftime and upsetting a favored Marinette Lourdes aggregation, 12-7. Tro-

ESCANABA DAILY PRESS SPORTS "It Seems To Me"

BY HIM WARD

We are being taken to task in some quarters for suggesting that Escanaba could beat Menominee should they meet again this season on the gridiron.

We are not inclined to carry a chip on our shoulder. It is not that. But anyone who has seen the spirit, poise and tremendous power of the Eskymos in the last half of the season could not think otherwise.

On its own level, it is comparable to the endless argument of the 1947 season: Which had the better team of 1947, Michigan or Notre Dame? And the 1948 race appears headed toward the same postseason debate.

We have only one reason for suggesting that Escanaba could beat Menominee should they meet again this season.

We think they could!

Cuff Notes: Munising's 13-0 triumph over Newberry concluded its most successful season since 1929 . . . It gave the Mustangs a 7-0-1 record, and 19 years ago they had an identical record . . . Stephenson's 25-13 victory over St. Joe Saturday in the second game ever played under lights in Escanaba was its first triumph in three and one half years . . . Coach Dick McCarthy of Stephenson smiles when he contemplates losing only seven of 30 players next fall.

Incidentally, the Eagles dispatched a message to us through Coach McCarthy . . . It went something like this: "Hey, coach, tell Ward we hope he enjoys that crow for Thanksgiving dinner!"

We picked St. Joe to beat Stephenson and that miss kept us from a 100 per cent selection, for Saturday, the requirement we set for ourselves to escape crow on Turkey day . . . We called Escanaba, Soo, Munising and Iron Mountain correctly . . . Okay, Eagles—crow it is, and congratulations for winding up the season with a victory.

Sam Byrd, Babe Ruth's old understudy with the New York Yankees, deserted baseball for golf . . . Ellsworth Vines deserted tennis for golf, and Bill Ezinicki is on the verge of deserting major league hockey for golf, although he is still going great guns with the champion Toronto Maple Leafs . . . Ezinicki is the young husky who stopped off at Highland Golf club in Escanaba last summer on a vacation jaunt and shot birdie-birdie on the last three holes . . . That's one for the books . . . He couldn't resist the course from the highway, so he stops off and casually plays the last three holes in three under par . . . Ugh!

Speaking of golf, the Leonards have returned from the annual family get-together at French Lick Springs, Ind., the occasion this year being the 57th wedding anniversary of the elder Leonards . . . We have never been able to pin down either Rudd or Cotton on the question of just which one of the six golfing Leonards brothers usually wins these family tournaments . . . But we know they must be battle royals . . . Rudd won the U. P. open in 1947 and Cotton won it this year in Iron Mountain.

Just for the record, elder brother Herman is pro at Bedford, Ind., Cotton at Menominee Riverside, Howard and Everett are at Butte des Morts at Appleton, Floyd at the Milwaukee Country club, Rudd still at Marquette at last report and sisters Lillian and Ruth were golf professionals at French Lick before they were married.

2 Newcomers In Tie For Pinehurst Lead

Pinehurst, N. C., Nov. 3 (AP)—When a top line performer in golf, or any sport, turns in one of the top performances, it's just something you'd expect. When an outsider does it, that's news.

For that reason, there's a lot more talk here about the chances of Julius Boros and Glenn Teal in the 46th North and South Open tournament than there is about Chick Harbert, Clayton Heafner or Sammy Sneed.

Boros, a Bridgeport, Conn., amateur, whose most notable achievement so far has been leading the nation in the 1948 sectional qualifying tests for the amateur championship, shot his way into a three-way tie with Harbert and Teal in yesterday's first round. Each had a four under par 68. Heafner, a tournament veteran, was one stroke back and Sneed had a 70 to trail by two strokes.

Teal, who recently quit a job as assistant pro at the Charlotte, N. C., Country club after serving there about six months, is another stranger to big-time tournament golf.

On the other hand, Harbert, Heafner and Sneed have made most of the major tournaments and have won their share. They have several things in common that make them the players who are most feared by the field. They're all long hitters, and the 6,952 yard, par 72 championship course at the Pinehurst Country club requires long and accurate hitting.

The San Francisco '49ers were the first team in the history of the All-American Football Conference to go through an entire game without receiving a kickoff. It happened against the New York Yankees recently.

The recent admission of the University of Delaware and Muhlenberg college has brought the membership of the 20-year-old Eastern Intercollegiate Football association up to 36 colleges.

The University of Texas' worst loss at the hands of a college team in recent times was a 42-6 drubbing in 1938 by Arkansas. The Razorbacks haven't won a game since from the Longhorns.

Final U. P. Football Roundup Shows Many Unusual Achievements

This is the final Upper Peninsula high school football roundup of the season. So, if you are a dyed-in-the-wool high school football fan and interested in comparing 1948 records with 1949 marks, you might clip the following roundup and tuck it away some place where Junior won't eat it.

Only seven games were played last Saturday, and only the belated Menominee-Marquette clash next Saturday remains on the schedule. In last week's games, several accomplishments worthy of more than passing notice went into the records. In fact, it was quite a remarkable weekend.

Munising blanked Newberry, 13-0, to finish undefeated and

Escanaba Basketball League Organization Meeting Next Week

A preliminary organization meeting of the Escanaba municipal basketball league will be held in the council chambers of the city hall at 8:45 next Wednesday night. It was announced yesterday by George Grenholm, city recreation director.

All managers, captains and players are invited to attend this session when all plans for the season will be discussed. The league had 10 teams last season, and it is planned to expand to 14 or 16 for the coming season. They will be divided between the American and National leagues, similar to the plan used in operating the two softball circuits of the Escanaba Softball League.

Practice schedules will be followed the last week in November and the regular schedule will open the first week in December.

All-Stars Favored To Take Maple Leafs

Chicago, Nov. 3 (AP)—The National Hockey League's All Stars have been installed a slight favorite for a repeat triumph over the world champion Toronto Maple Leafs tonight in the second annual All-Star contest.

A capacity Chicago Stadium crowd of 17,000 fans will watch the squad of 18 All-Stars, selected by league coaches, attempt to follow up their 4-3 decision over the Leafs in the inaugural match at Toronto last year. A fast, bruising battle is anticipated.

The gross take will be about $30,000, two-thirds of which will go to the Players' Pension Fund and the remainder to the veterans fund of the Chicago Daily News, sponsor of the event.

Tommy Ivan, in his second season as coach of the league-leading Detroit Red Wings, is coach of the handpicked team. He gets the honor for having piloted Detroit to second place last campaign.

K-C BOWLING

Battle Creek—The Eighth Annual Michigan State Council Knights of Columbus Bowling tournament will be held at the Jack Sharkey Recreation in Battle Creek beginning January 15, 1949 and continuing for seven weeks. Entry blanks will be distributed the first week in November by Secretary Francis J. Dederick of Detroit and all entries must be filed with the secretary not later than Tuesday, Dec. 7.

The 36 member colleges of the Eastern Intercollegiate Football association have scheduled a total of 317 games for the 1948 football season.

Syracuse and Penn State, at the start of this season, had broken even on the gridiron, each time winning 10 games. Five were ties.

record its most successful season since 1919. Iron Mountain clinched the Menominee range championship by stopping Kingsford, 7-0. Stephenson beat St. Joseph's of Escanaba, 25-13, for its first victory in three and one-half years, and Bessemer defeated DePauw, 7-0, for its first triumph of the year.

Escanaba's Eskymos got on in this remarkable weekend by downing Gladstone, 54-0, to record the second highest score in the 49-year-old series. This—despite the fact Coach George Ruveldt used his reserves freely and held his graduating senior veterans in check.

Here's the final 1948 roundup:

Jackie Burke Is Promising Golfer

Pinehurst, N. C., Nov. 3 (AP)—The golf experts around here will tell you that the most promising young player to make the tournament circuit this year is Jackie Burke, a transplanted Texan who plays out of White Plains, N. Y., one thing that's certain, Jackie is trying.

He had a 71 in yesterday's first round of the north and south open then went right out and began practicing his putting. What's more, he has the best pros in the business watching him when he practices . . . The catch seems to be that Jackie, whose father tied for second place in the 1920 National Open, is 24 years old and a war veteran.

He's not a kid, in the sense that Bobby Jones was when he reached the semi-final of the National amateur or that Francis Ouimet and Gene Sarazen were when they won the open at the age of 20.

JOE GOES A-HUNTING
Toronto, Nov. 3 (AP)—Joe DiMaggio, the New York Yankee outfielder, was scheduled to leave today for a week's hunting trip north of Ottawa. On his return from the camp of Arthur Gottlieb, Toronto moviemaker, DiMaggio plans to go to Johns Hopkins hospital in Baltimore. He will undergo an operation to remove bone spurs from his right heel.

U-M Top Passing; U-W Lead Rushing; Gophers Best Offense, Defense

Chicago, Nov. 3 (AP)—Undefeated Michigan has a record-setting passing attack and enigmatic Wisconsin has the best ground attack, but rugged Minnesota is the Big Nine's top offensive and defensive football team.

The defending champion Wolverines have averaged 160 yards by passing in four league games, a record gain in which an amazing array of seven tossers has figured.

Previous high was Michigan's 145.5 in 1946.

Official conference statistics today also showed that Wisconsin, winner in only one of four starts, leads in rushing with an average of 223 yards, the only Big Nine team smashing more than 200 yards per contest.

Minnesota's Gophers, still scenting Pasadena roses with a 2-2 record, have the best per game average gain by rushing and passing, 279.8, and their behemoth line has limited opponents to a 194 average. Minnesota's average rushing gain is 149.5, while in throwing 20.5 passes per game, the most in the league, the Gophers have averaged 130.3 yards through the air.

The Wolverines have completed 37 of 78 passes thrown in four games for 640 yards, scoring eight of their 18 conference touchdowns on aerials.

Chuck Ortmann, with 19 hits in 36 tosses and Walt Teninga, with 10 out of 22, are Michigan's principal sharpshooters, but the versatile Wolverine air offense also has good marksmen in Pete Elliott, Tom Peterson, Charles Lentz, Gene Derricotte and end Dick Rifenburg.

Second behind Minnesota in over-all offense is Ohio State with a 285.8 per game average, followed by Michigan with 273.8. Surprisingly, Michigan's heralded running attack rates seventh with a 113.8 average, topping only Illinois with 108.7 and Indiana with a meager 52.8.

Johnny-Come-Lately Miller Leading Ball Carrier in Big Nine

Chicago, Nov. 3 (AP)—Sophomore Johnny Miller, Northwestern's latest secret weapon, has jumped from the unknown ranks to the leading ball carrier of the Big Nine.

Just one game did it. The elusive 175 pound halfback who won all state honors at Chicago's Schurz high school, smashed through Ohio State Saturday for 120 yards in 14 tries. This boosted his four-game average to 6.9 in 21 carries.

Prior to this rampage against the Buckeyes he was just another 20-year-old youngster named Johnny. He was an understudy to Northwestern's speedy Frank Aschenbrenner, who was handicapped with an injury last Saturday.

Contrary to rumors heard in Gladstone and Escanaba the last few days, Don Carlson, Escanaba Eskymo backfield star, did not suffer a ruptured appendix in the Escanaba-Gladstone football game last Saturday.

Carlson was taken out of the game after he intercepted a Gladstone pass and ran 79 yards for a touchdown, but it developed that he only had the wind knocked out of him and he returned to the game the second half.

He was interviewed briefly by the Escanaba Daily Press sports editor this morning.

"I'm okeh. I feel fine. Thanks for asking," he said.

Defendants.

At a special session of said court, held at the courthouse in the City of Iron Mountain, in County of Dickinson, on the 19th day of October, A. D. 1948.

Present: Honorable GLENN W. JACKSON, Circuit Judge.

On reading and filing the bill of complaint in said cause and the affidavit of WHEATON L. STROM, attached thereto, from which it satisfactorily appears to the court that the defendants above named, or their unknown heirs, devisees, legatees and assigns are proper and necessary parties defendant in the above entitled cause, and

It further appearing that after diligent search and inquiry it cannot be ascertained, and it is not known whether or not said defendants are living or dead, or where any of them may reside, if living, and, if dead, whether they have personal representatives or heirs living or where they or some of them may reside, and further that the present whereabouts of said defendants are unknown, and that the names of the persons who are included therein without being named, but who are embraced therein under the title of unknown heirs, devisees, legatees and assigns, cannot be ascertained after diligent search and inquiry.

ON MOTION OF WHEATON L. STROM, attorney for Plaintiff, IT IS ORDERED that said defendants and their unknown heirs, devisees, legatees and assigns, cause their appearance to be entered in this cause within three (3) months from the date of this Order and in default thereof that said bill of complaint be taken as confessed by the said defendants, their unknown heirs, devisees, legatees and assigns.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that a copy of this order be published in the ESCANABA DAILY PRESS, a newspaper printed, published and circulated in said county, such publication to be continued therein once in each week for six (6) weeks in succession.

GLENN W. JACKSON, Circuit Judge.

J. THEODORE OHLEN, Clerk of the Circuit Court.

Want Some Advice? Write Congressman, He'll Send A Book

By JOHN CHADWICK
Washington, (AP)—Want some expert advice on how to repair a rug, market poultry, banish cockroaches, take care of your lawn or pick a sound horse?

Just write to your Congressman. Each Senator and House member is entitled to have government bulletins on these and scores of other subjects sent to you. The publications, some 400 in number, are prepared by the Department of Agriculture.

The supply is not unlimited, however, for the year that began July 1, each member of Congress has a quota of 9,000 of these so-called farmers' bulletins for free distribution to constituents.

Another publication widely distributed by Congressmen is a pamphlet on infant care, published by the U. S. Children's bureau. Each member is allotted a maximum of 150 a month.

Of all the government publication probably the one most in demand right now is the Agriculture Department's 1948 yearbook, titled "Grasses."

The customary rural demand has been swelled by city dwellers hoping for hints on how to improve their lawns. Congressional offices have been so swamped with requests that the Agriculture Department has issued the chapter on lawns in separate form.

This move was welcomed by Congressmen hard-pressed to fill requests for the yearbook. Each House member is allotted only 400 and each Senator only 550.

A good deal of trading is carried on by Congressional offices trying to keep up with the demands for such publications. Political party lines often are crossed in these trades.

One of Rep. Clare Hoffman's employees, for instance, tells of swapping baby books to Rep. John D. Dingell for Agricultural year books.

Dingell, a Detroit Democrat, has only a light demand for the yearbooks but his allotment of infant care pamphlets falls far short of his needs. With Hoffman, Allegen Republican, the situation is reversed.

Shortly before coming up for re-election, a Republican representative from Indiana circularized his district with a list of the farm bulletins available. Within 10 days his entire year's quota was oversubscribed by 5,000. The orders kept pouring in and he was wringing his hands in desperation. His secretary did some quick trading. In one deal she managed to wangle 16,000 farm bulletins from a New York Democrat who had allowed his allotment to accumulate.

Such Capitol Hill horse-trading may involve swapping baby books for farm pamphlets, or agricultural yearbooks for tickets to Army and Navy football games, as Congressmen try to make the maximum use of the vote-getting privileges accorded them.

To avoid being caught short of farmers' bulletins, Reps. Paul W. Shafer of Bronson and Earl C. Michener of Adrian, Republicans, make it a practice to circulate their districts only every other year. This permits them to build up a two years' supply except for the drain of routine, day-to-day requests.

Michener has doubled his supply of infant care pamphlets by arranging to take the entire quota of an Illinois Republican. Shafer draws on the allotment of Rep. Jesse Wolcott, Port Huron Republican to meet his needs.

Some members, like Shafer, receive birth records from county clerks in their districts. Rep. George Sadowski, Detroit Democrat, sends the baby books to doctors for distribution to mothers. Others, like Rep. Fred Crawford, Saginaw Republican, mail them to hospitals.

In many Congressional offices secretaries scan the local papers for birth notices and send the infant care pamphlets to the parents.

Many Congressmen believe their privileges of sending out such government publications is worth many votes. It is one of the advantages the "ins" have over the "outs."

They say it not only gives them a chance to do constituents a favor but also, and perhaps most important, gets their name before the public.

Not all members subscribe to this view, however. Rep. Wolcott's secretary said he sends out nothing that isn't asked for. She explained he does not feel it is the function of a Congressman.

Shortly before coming up for re-election, a Republican representative from Indiana circularized his district with a list of the farm bulletins available. Within 10 days his entire year's quota was oversubscribed by 5,000. The orders kept pouring in and
